Supervisorial district race Tuesday

Incumbent Murphy faces three challengers

Three active challengers will square off against 16-year incumbent supervisor John Murphy in the Alameda County First District Supervisorial race on Tuesday.

The first district includes the valley and Fremont. Unless one candidate receives more than 50 per cent of the votes cast, there will be a run-off between the two top vote-getters in the November General Election.

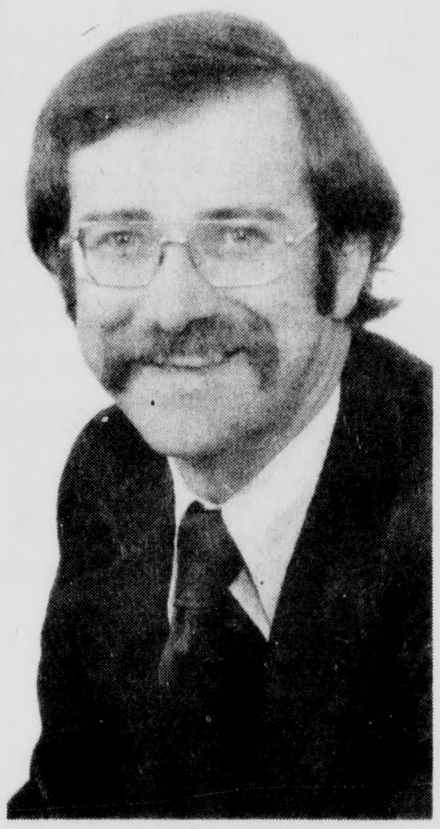
For candidates Rob Alves, Valerie Raymond and Irene Vincent, the biggest issue in this year's race has been Murphy's performance as the district's representative.

A fourth challenger, Salle Saint, has not campaigned for the office though her name appears on the ballot. She is reported to have withdrawn from the race.

Murphy maintains this is not the toughest election fight he's faced. But he characterizes this year's contest as "the most ridiculous."

The 51-year-old incumbent was first appointed to the Board of Supervisors in 1960. Hasseled recently by charges of residence impropriety and suggestions of irregularity in advancing property for an east county government site, Murphy says his record speaks for itself.

John Murphy



Rob Alves

Valerie Raymond

Irene Vincent

Murphy rebuffs charges of inaccessibility with the comment that he's "worked quietly and effectively without fanfare for the District and people I represent."

He cites as major accomplishments during his tenure bringing South Bay aqueduct water to the county, improved county library system, toll-free phones to county facilities, establishment of a municipal court in Livermore, and creation of a county-wide crime lab.

A long-time Pleasanton resident, Murphy recently announced his decision to move to Fremont.

The 1976 race is Valerie Raymond's second bid to unseat Murphy. The 36-year-old Livermore resident waged a last-minute campaign for the supervisorial post in 1972, and captured 40 per cent of the vote.

Since that time, Raymond has been working toward this year's contest.

Raymond has hit hard at Murphy's record, noting that he voted to double supervisors' salaries within four years, failed to bring through an extension of El Charro Road, gave south county short shrift on health services, and "passed the buck" on cleaning up Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center.

Raymond has served as chairman of the Pleasanton Health Care Center, president of the Livermore - Amador Valley League of Women Voters, and vice chairman of the District Health Advisory Cmuncil.

Raymond also has served on numerous citizen review committees, such as the BART extension advisory committee and the State Attorney General's Task Force on Environment.

Challenger Irene Vincent of Fremont is best known as the "Water Lady" for her efforts to clean up water in the southern area of the county.

The 47-year-old businesswoman and consumer advocate was founder and president of Citizens for Better Water, and spearheaded the drive to purchase Citizens Utility Company.

Vincent was also vice president of Electricty and Gas for People, the group that worked to establish a life-line rate for senior citizens and low income families.

Her activities, she says, have given her the experience and contacts needed to make decisions as a full-time supervisor.

Vincent would like to abolish the political buddy system, and she favors limiting a supervisor to two terms.

She argues that south county has not gotten its due in areas of health care services, and she pledges to work to clean up conditions at Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center.

Thirty-year-old Rob Alves is a former newpspaper reporter who has worked as a political aide for the late Assemblyman Carlos Bee and for Supervisor Charles Santana.

His administrative experience, he believes, has given him the opportunity to see pressure politics in action. And Alves thinks this will help him to resist such pressures if he is elected.

The Fremont resident has campaigned on a platform of "the people's right to know" what's going on in county government.

He claims he is the most qualified "to bring effective intergovernmental cooperation."

Salle Saint's name will appear on the primary ballot. She lists her occupation as homemaker. Saint says she is most concerned with humanistic needs, particularly problems confronting senior citizens, youth, low-income, minorities and the disabled.

Amador civic students sample voters' preference in valley

A "scientific" prediction of how the Valley will vote on Tuesday has been announced by civics students at Amador High School.

Not only did the 156 students divide up Dublin and Pleasanton into precincts, and poll 25 voters per precinct. They also asked the public about several issues that will not be on the ballot — just for general information.

Teachers Paul Zarcone and Don Anger directed the project with their seven classes. The students decided what questions to ask, then paired up to interview people on 16 topics.

A similar survey was staged a few years ago and it proved very accurate in predicting election results, Zarcone says.

Using precinct maps and picking homes at random in each precinct makes the survey scientifically valid, the teacher explained.

"And, they didn't discuss their own personal opinions while surveying. At least, they were told not to."

So, Amador High civics scholars predict:

- Ford will be slightly more popular than Reagan for president (186 votes to 173). Democrats will go for Brown (155) over Carter (46), Udall (12), Wallace (12), Humphrey (15) or others.
- For U.S. Senator, incumbent John Tunney has it almost 10-1 over challenger Tom Hayden. Republicans are showing a preference for Alphonso Bell (194) over Sam Hayakawa (111).
- Congressman Fortney "Pete" Stark gleaned 452 votes, while James Mills attracted 217 and others collected 120.
- Assemblyman Floyd Mori picked up 472 votes for Congressman, "other" 125, Republicans Robert Wirt and David Funsch 91 and 95, respectively.
- Supervisor Don Murphy leads Valerie Raymond, 386 to 292. "Others" received 89 votes.
- The Amador Valley High School District tax increase proposal, for which students will be campaigning this weekend, got 370 "yes" votes, 310 "no" and 95 unsure.
- The nuclear safeguards initiative, Prop. 15, is narrowly defeated, 313 - 399.
- There is better than 2 to 1 support for exempting high school seniors from taking physical education.
- Almost everyone wants to see BART extended into the Valley (590 votes to 126).
- Support for a new hospital in the west end of the Valley, as proposed by Valley Memorial Hospital and hotly contested by some, received support from 532 people in the affected area and was opposed by 210.
- Voters wanted an overpass across Interstate 680 at West Las Positas. The proposal got 522 yes votes, 223 against.
- Oddly enough, the number of responses on another locally controversial question added up to more than the number of total ballots. Some 523 people thought there should be designated smoking areas on high - school campuses, 419 were opposed and only 778 ballots were turned in...
- The Pleasanton Elementary tax increase barely lost, 193 to 199, with 80 people unsure on that one.
- Almost nobody (48 people) want Pleasanton to grow beyond the building and population limits set by government agencies for Pleasanton. There were 209 people who thought the 48,500 figure was too high, 198 who considered it about right.

Target dates listed for Stoneridge hub

PLEASANTON — Work begins a year from now on the proposed Stoneridge Shopping Mall, it was announced last week by the developers, Taubman Company, Inc.

A report issued to mayor Robert Philcox listed a series of target dates, with work commencing next summer, and the opening of two major department stores in the mall by autumn, 1979.

The report to Philcox documented a series of setbacks suffered by the long-awaited shopping center. J.E. Burkhardt, general manager of Taubman, blamed these setbacks for a two-year delay in construction.

It didn't mention another potential snag which could arise Monday night. That's when Caltrans will hold a 7:30 meeting at Val Vista Recreation Center to discus freeway overpass proposals involving Stoneridge.

Two overcrossings that would bridge I-680 are being considered for Pleasanton. One would feed the Stoneridge Mall. The other would link Las Positas Boulevard.

Proponents of the Las Positas structure don't want an overpass for Stoneridge. At least not right away. They fear its construction would jeopardize financing of a Las Positas bridge. That structure is needed to usher pedestrians safely across the freeway, it is claimed.

City council, however, has said that the Stoneridge crossing won't jeopardize one at Las Positas.

A large crowd is expected to debate the issue Monday.

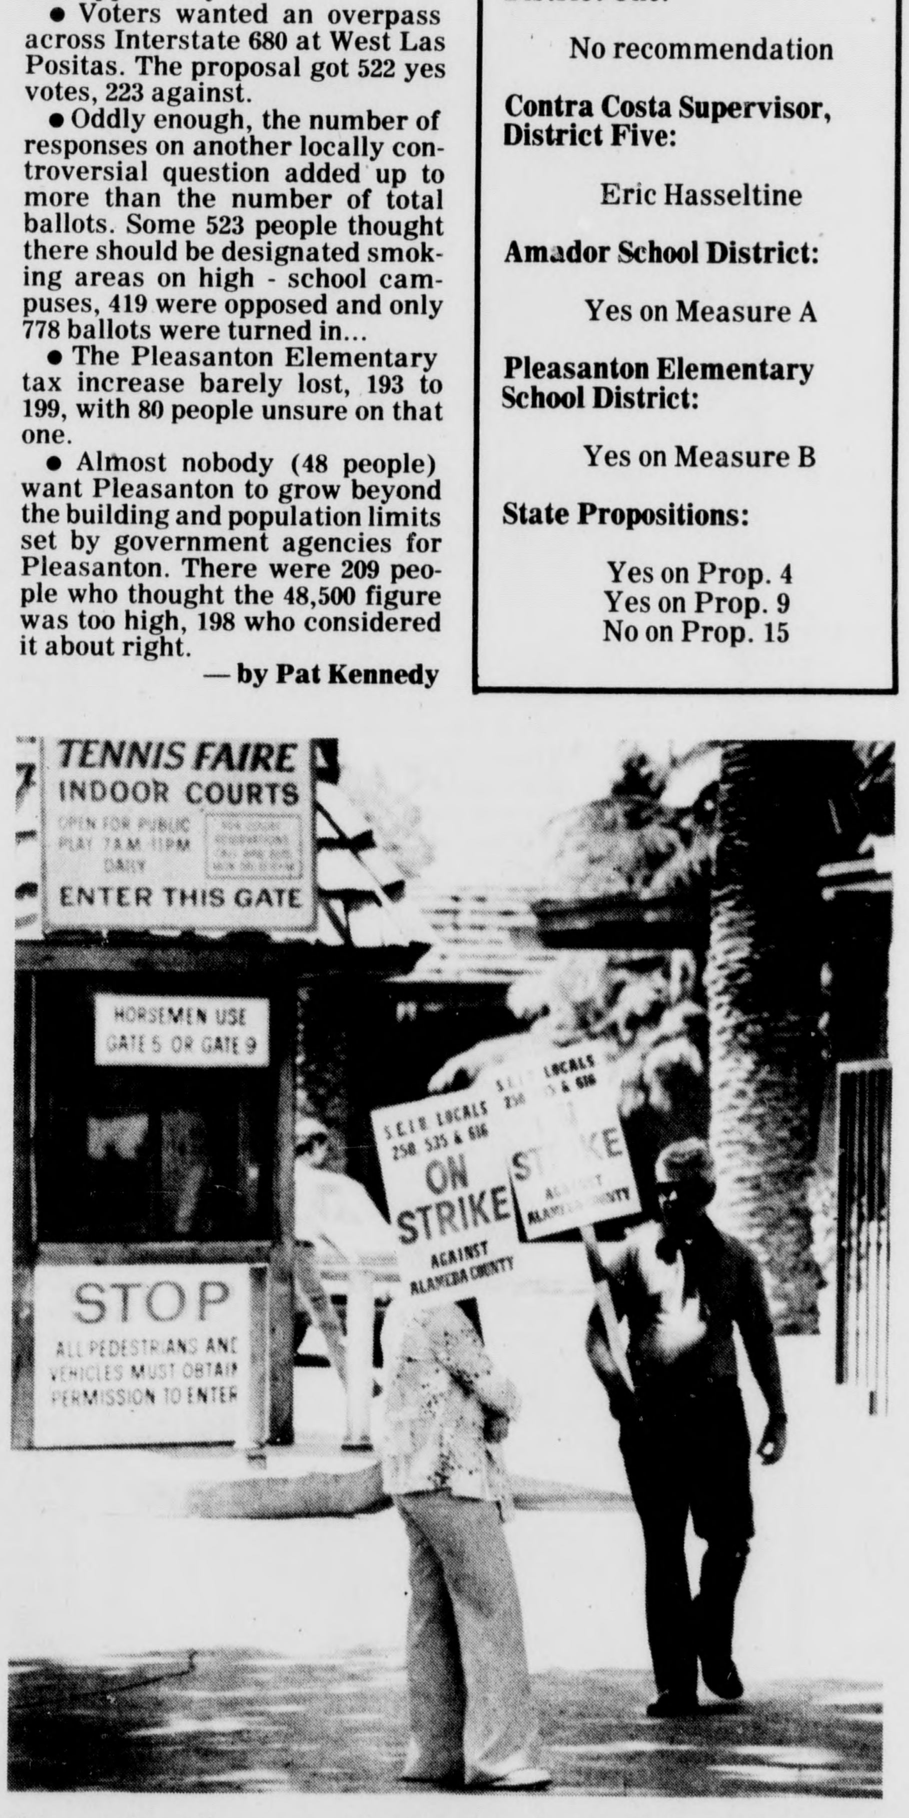
Meanwhile, Taubman Co. is expecting to forge ahead with the huge shopping complex that will house three heavies of the department store world, H.C. Capwell's, Macy's, and J.C.Penney's. One-hundred speciality stores will be included in the mall, says Burkhardt.

"Our company has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars, and countless man-hours in the planning of Stoneridge, and we are totally committed to its development said Robert Eynck of Pleasanton, vice-president of Taubman in Hayward, and project manager for Stoneridge.

According to Burkhardt's report, Stoneridge would generate more than $800,000 in sales taxes during its first year of operation.

Annual city revenue after 10 years, claims Burkhardt, would be $2 million.

The Macy's and Penney's stores are scheduled to open in the fall of 1979, says Burkhardt. Capwell's will open about six months later.



This was the strike scene at the Alameda County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton as pickets patrolled the entrance Friday.

County picket lines

Strike threatens fair

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Striking service employe union officials still have not decided what to do about the annual County Fair planned for the end of this month.

They're sticking to an earlier announcement that they've made no "firm decision" on the fate of the fair.

The unions will hold a 2 o'clock rally tomorrow afternoon on the plaza of the county's administration building here. They are expected to clarify their role in Tuesday's election, and may take a more definitive position on the fair.

Fair Board General Manager Lee Hall finds the annual fete caught in the middle between striking employes and the county Board of Supervisors.

"The fair is not involved in the strike in any way," he said. "We're not county employes; the Fair Association is not a county operation. They're only striking us because its on county property."

But he already is feeling the effects of the week old imbroglio.

Union delivery drivers will not cross the picket lines because the strike has been sanctioned by the Alameda County Central Labor Council and endorsed by Teamsters' International local 70.

And while that's hurt pre-fair activities and will impair the necessary logistic build-up in preparation for the fair, it also could force cancellation of the event.

"We'll have to make very drastic decisions if the strike's still going on at that time," Hall said. "We'll probably not be able to open up the fair."

While the fair board has no union employes — the general operation is semi-autonomous of the Board of Supervisors — nearly all those working the fair will be members of unions.

Hall said the musicians, parking lot attendants, pari-mutuel employes, culinary workers, racing officials and others all are union members and apparently will honor the picket lines.

Horse owners already have been hit with two strikes this year.

He's taken his plight to County Counsel Richard Moore, but has been told "nothing can be done."

"I'm sure any conversations I had with (the labor council or the unions) would not prove fruitful," he added.

As perilous as things look for the June 20 — July 11 fair, the county is entering the second week of the strike on a fairly "business as usual" basis.

County Administrator Loren Enoch said Friday that absentee statistics for the day were holding at about 45 per cent of non - management employes.

There are some 7,100 non - management personnel working for the county, but apparently only 4,000 are members of Service Employes International Union locals 250, 535 and 616.

Some 5,500 non-management personnel fall under the jurisdiction of the three SEIU locals, but union membership is not mandatory.

The week closed on a relatively peaceful note.

One citizen, neither a county employe nor a union member, was arrested for heckling pickets at Highland General Hospital.

Sheriff's deputies cited two county employes for allegedly speeding through picket lines at Juvenile Hall, while a stink bomb was set off in the laundry room of Fairmont Hospital.

Eight of the county's 11 libraries closed — Dublin, Fremont and the Business and Government Library in Hayward remained open — to give working personnel "a well needed break," according to a county spokesman.

The libraries closed only on Friday to prepare for the weekend rush, the spokesman added.

Highland Hospital Administrator Lawrence Hoban said the unions took 50 minutes to give him the names of two nurses needed for standby on a possible surgery.

But a union spokeswoman said the first name was given immediately and the second in about 15 minutes.

The unions promised to provide personnel for emergency services.

Garbage has not been a problem. Drivers for Oakland Scavenger Co. have refused to cross picket lines, so the county is compacting its refuse and hauling it to the OSC dump in county trucks.

Pay checks for striking employes are due this Friday, and a county spokesman said the strikers' checks will be sent to their supervisors for disbursement. The checks, which total $4.8 million, cover the last two weeks of May.

Supervisors Chairman Fred Cooper has asked the unions for action on next week's election.

"Six or eight polling places are in county buildings," he said, "and we hope they'll withdraw the pickets or post signs saying they won't interfere."

Cooper offered no prediction on the length of the strike, but did say the board will be "nervous about the future" if the strike isn't settled soon.

Union officials, too, said they'd make no predictions. "We're basically satisfied with the way the strike's going," said one. "We'll wait for the county to make an acceptable offer."

Granada to present its spring art show

LIVERMORE — The opportunity to purchase — or merely enjoy — original art work and handcrafted jewelry will be offered along with the chance to help support the Granada High School Fine Arts Department on Monday and Tuesday.

The Fine Arts Department will present its annual Spring Art Show and silent auction Monday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. and Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the Granada High School Little Theatre, 400 Wall St.

Donation is 50 cents without a student body card and the admission money will help support the Fine Arts Department. Those attending the show also are welcome to participate in a silent auction for most of the art work exhibited and students will be asked to donate a small percentage of the purchase price to the school.

Zone 7 hopefuls list finances

Complying with his promise to disclose all campaign contributions and expenditures before the June 8 election, Zone 7 candidate Don Miller Friday released to the press a list of all contributors and expenses as of 5 p.m. on June 3.

Archer Futch also released a list naming contributors and the amounts given to his campaign for the zone board.

None of the other eight candidates has made available lists of their contributors, but the campaign finance disclosure law does not require them to do so until 65 days after the June 8 election.

Miller reported receiving cash contributions of $3,443.50, an average of $13.14 per family. Contributions ranged from $1 to a maximum of $25 set by the candidate.

The majority of Miller's contributors were Livermore residents. Fifty people gave $25 each; 24 people gave $20 each; 23 people gave $15 each; 99 people gave between $10 and $14; and 73 people gave contributions under $10.

Archer Futch received a total of $2,444.09 in cash contributions. The average donation was $11.98.

Futch, like Miller, drew most of his financial support from Livermore residents.

Futch received eight contributions in amounts ranging from $26 to $63; 23 people gave $25 each; 15 people gave $20 each; 19 people gave $15 each; 90 people gave $10 each; and 50 people gave contributions of less than $10.

Both candidates listed non-monetary contributions at their actual value.

Ken Rhodie designed Miller's publicity flyer. Its worth was set as $100. Gloria Taylor designed three new Miller sign logos. Value of her service was set at $150.

Valley First Committee gains newspaper funding

Financial disclosure statements on file with the Alameda County Registrar show that the Valley First Committee, formed to further the candidacy of three men in the Zone 7 race, has received three-quarters of its funds from the Tri - Valley Hearld/News.

The disclosure, covering the period through May 25, shows that the VFC has collected $945, $700 of which was a cash contribution by the Herald.

Other cash contributions include $75 from Regan Realty, $75 from Pearson Realty, $50 from Groth Brothers, and $45 in small contributions.

Listed as expenses in the period through May 25 are $199 for advertising in the Valley Times, $100 for advertising in the Independent, and a $99 contribution to the campaign of zone candidate Tom Schweser.

Also listed as an expense is a reimbursement to Dorothy Sladky of $134.99 for advertising she placed with the Tri-Valley Herald-/News.

This disclosure statement does not include the expense incurred in publishing a four-page flyer the VFC distributed last weekend. The flyer was published by Sparks Printing, 325 S. I St., Livermore, the location of Tri-Valley Herald/News.

Theresa Scatto, VFC treasurer, said that expense will be reported by the filing deadline 65 days after the June 8 election.

The Valley First Committee was formed last April after a series of private breakfast meetings organized by Hayward publisher Floyd Sparks were revealed by The Times.

Vern Hemstreet checks student's woodworking project

Product of environment

(This is the 20th and final article of a series on The Classroom Teacher, featuring elementary, junior high and high school teachers in the Amador, Pleasanton, San Ramon, Murray and Sunol school districts)

Humble surroundings reinforced by depression times moulded Vern Hemstreet into a forthright, man of his word.

His strength of character has reached out to thousands of young people over a teaching career that comes to a completion this year after 35 years.

A teacher of wood shop the past nine years at Amador Valley High School, Vern is indeed a product of the 20s...when times were hard, especially for farm people, but when a man's words were more likely his bond compared to the superficiality of contemporary times.

The times have not changed Vern .

But he can recall some pretty wild and exciting days during his early teaching career in the Northern California mountain hamlet of Tulelake.

He remembers a young cub reporter by the name of Edmands, now editor John Edmands of The Times.

Born in Colorado at Steamboat Springs, Hemstreet grew up in the semi-isolated farming community of Vernal, Utah.

"Because of the depression, we didn't believe much in credit or going in head over heels in credit to buy a farm."

It was this realistic view of life that ultimately turned the young Hemstreet from a life in farming.

So he did the next best thing, he went to college and learned how to teach agriculture.

Hemstreet attended Utah State in Ogden and graduated with a degree in agriculture.

He then came to California on scholarship.

Following the completion of college studies, Hemstreet gained his first job as an agriculture teacher at Santa Maria High School on the central coast.

But Vern longed for a slightly more rural atmosphere and, after a half year, moved to Tulelake in 1941. He spent the next 24 years in that community as a teacher of agriculture.

Youthful enthusiasm led him into a wealth of additional projects, from helping organize the Tulelake Water District to formation and directorship in the 10-A Agriculture District Fair. The latter was the last district fair ever organized.

At the same time, Hemstreet farmed five "very productive" acres, traveled the Fair circuit showing sheep and became affiliated with the Masonic Lodge and Rotary Club.

During his association with the district fair, Hemstreet came to know the late Assemblyman Lester Davis, whose widow, Pauline Davis, has been a power in the Assembly for Fairs and Expositions.

During the years of World War II, some 20,000 Japanese were placed at the Tulelake Relocation Center.

Hemstreet notes, wryly, that the population of Tulelake High School burgeoned to 180 with the influx of children of camp personnel.

Fifteen of his 24 years were directed to teaching of agriculture and serving as vice principal. The last nine years were as a wood shop teacher.

Tiring of the small town "petty politics" and fearing its affect on his two adopted children, Hemstreet and his wife decided to move to this area.

Hemstreet taught agriculture for two years after his arrival at Amador in 1965 but then moved into his present position of wood shop instructor.

A past president of the Superior region of the California Agriculture Teachers Association, Hemstreet is concerned at the future of wood shop instruction in the schools.

"We're working with very expensive equipment and this could cause some very great changes. Wood shop may have to be offered under vocational education or the state will have to step in and say we should charge lab fees for the equipment," Hemstreet predicts.

He believes the biggest difference between students of today and yesteryear is their desire to learn. "They don't seem to have a goal or objective nowadays."

When he leaves Amador in a few more days, Hemstreet and his wife, Nola, will cast an eye towards possibly moving to the Sierra foothills or the Rogue River Valley in Oregon.

Admittedly a pretty good fisherman, Vern has no definite plans other than to sit back and enjoy his free time.

Gib Souza installed as Livermore Jaycee boss

LIVERMORE — Gib Souza was installed as president of the Livermore Jaycees at the organization's annual Installation and Awards Banquet over the Memorial Day weekend.

Installing officer was Gene Tatmon, newly elected president of the California Jaycees.

Also installed at the banquet was the new president of the Jaycees Wives Club, Patricia Carter, with Mrs. Gene Tatmon conducting the ceremony.

Jaycee officers for 1976-77 installed at the banquet were vice presidents John Arguello, Pat Talty and John Swanson; state director Dan Brown; secretary Mike Spink; treasurer Jon Conaway; and directors Clark Abramson, Pete Palcuba, Terry Wren, Bill Archer, Wolfgang Klamp, Ron Gillette and Tim Henshaw. Past president is Lee Lambert.

In the Wives Club, Roberta Arguella was installed as first vice-president; Jackie Wren, second vice-president; Sue Conaway, secretary, and Karen Brown, treasurer. Past president is Marsha Gillette.

During the awards ceremoney, Souza was named Jaycee of the Year and Ken Johnson was named as Key Man of the Livermore chapter. Jaycee International Senatorships, rarely presented and the most prestigious award for a Jaycee, were presented to Dick Komlofske and Hardy Dean.

The Jon Conaway Jr. Benefit, chaired by Souza, was named Large Project of the Year. It will be known as the John Conaway Jr. Memorial Award in future years.

Terry Wren was presented with the Al Rollins Award, given to the outstanding first-year Jaycee and John Kerekes received two awards for Air Show '75. Ron Gillette and Leon Smith were the recipients of awards for their efforts as well.

New Livermore Jaycee president Gib Souza and Jaycees Wives Club president Patricia Carter with outgoing presidents Marsha Gillette and Lee Lambert.

Letters to The Times

Turner speaks

This is an open letter to the citizens of the Zone 7 District.

As an elected official in the Livermore Valley, I have worked through committees with many of the Zone 7 candidates. For two years, I sat on the same Council with Donald Miller and Archer Futch.

After carefully considering the candidates, I am endorsing and voting for: Donald G. Miller, Archer Futch, Gilbert Marguth, Jr.

I would encourage all the Valley voters to do the same.

Regardless of all the controversial newspaper editorials, articles and "letters to the editors," these are responsible men, their public voting records will bear this out.

Remember this when you vote: 1. An editorial is only the opinion of the editor. A human being, just like you. 2. The way you vote in this election, or any election, will impact your futune. 3. This Valley, that we live in and love, will be, for most of us, our home for the rest of our lives.

Read your voters phamplets carefully and vote June 8, 1976 for Miller, Futch and Marguth.

Dale Turner
Mayor Pro-Tempore

Poor priorities

Editor, The Times:

At a time when we are all concerned with electing the three most capable candidates to Zone 7, it is ludicrous to see the Valley Times make such an issue about Miller's campaign signs. Pleasanton has been quite successful in enforcing their campaign sign rules and restrictions. Is there some reason why Livermore cannot do the same?

Putting the shoe on the other foot — Miller's signs have been placed on property where other candidates have received property owners' permission to place campaign posters. This would be fair except for one thing. In many cases Miller's workers have not received permission. An example is the west side of Hopyard Road in Pleasanton. Miller indignantly requests cooperation from all other candidates, and then his team of workers cover other signs with Miller's signs.

Let's stop this childishness and get on with the business of choosing people who will wisely represent the entire Valley. We must have people on Zone 7 from all Valley cities. We must stop serving the "choice few" and consider all — ranchers, businessmen, scientists, agriculturalists, engineers, senior citizens, attorneys, etc. We must have Zone 7 members who understand dollars and cents, common sense engineering, immediate and long range planning, and who is capable of and determined to cooperate.

What sense does it make to create petty trouble — we have quite enough to do solving honest - to - goodness problems and serving the entire Valley.

Cancer crusades

Editor, The Times:

The Valley branch of the American Cancer Society would like to express its appreciation to the Times for the coverage it has given to the 1976 Cancer Crusade.

We are especially grateful to Lilly Ault for all her help, and to Reina Whitney for her fine coverage of our kick-off luncheon.

While approximately $12,000 has been collected so far, we are still far short of the $18,000 goal set for the Valley. Anyone still wishing to contribute may do so by mailing a check to the American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 522, Livermore.

Consequences of 15

Editor, The Times:

Proposition 15 is on the June 8th ballot. Anti-nuclear critics have said that it will make nuclear power safe. If passed, it will make nuclear power absolutely safe. A reactor that is not operating cannot hurt anyone, neither can it produce electricity.

As a voter you should consider the consequences of a nuclear shutdown. Consider the following facts. Even with zero population growth in the next ten years U.S. households will increase by 34 per cent and the labor force will increase over 25 percent because of the baby boom of the fifties. Where will the energy come from to power the homes and jobs of these people? Electricity will be needed to provide added capacity and will also have to replace part of the rapidly dwindling gas and oil supply. Even stringent conservation can only briefly delay the looming energy crunch.

The proponents of Proposition 15 say that we can have absolute nuclear safety with no real cost to us. In reality we cannot have clean air, affordable electricity and total nuclear safety. The only reasonable alternatives are coal and nuclear.

The chance of a nuclear accident has been estimated to be one in five billion. If Proposition 15 passes we may have brown-outs and black-outs, increased air pollution, more on oil spills, banning of certain types of appliances and higher utility bills, and the chance of that is a lot higher than five billion to one.

Livermore council eyes tree removal request

LIVERMORE — The city council again will tackle the question of whether to grant permission for removal of two ancestral trees in the front yard of 740 S. Livermore Ave. when it meets tomorrow night.

Council members will gather at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Court Chambers, 39 S. Livermore Ave., to discuss the Ancestral Tree Ordinance and a host of other business.

An appeal of Steve and Sharon Coronado to remove two palm trees from their front yard on S Livermore Avenue was considered by the council in late May but no decision was reached. Approval is necessary because the trees, by virtue of their size, are protected by the city's 1972 Ancestral Tree Ordinance.

Other business scheduled for consideration at Monday night's meeting include public hearings on proposed rezoning for property in the vicinity of I-580 and Portola Avenue (initiated by the planning commission) and a General Plan Amendment to add a noise element and scenic highway element.

The council also is set to review the design of Railroad Avenue which will become a through street to Stanley Boulevard and and under a separate item consider including Stanley Boulevard as a truck route for the city.

The acquisition of park property for Max Baer and Pioneer Memorial Parks will be reviewed and a tentative map for Trevarno Road property which includes the provision the street will be brought up to residential standards is expected to be approved.

Airport advisory unit to talk fuel mark-ups

LIVERMORE — The city's fuel mark-up price policy and responses to inquiries about providing temporary portable chemical restrooms and radio-controlled runway lights will be reviewed by the Airport Advisory Committee at its monthly meeting Tuesday at noon.

Members will meet at the Rancher Restaurant, Pine Street and Rincon Avenue, for their luncheon meeting.

The fuel mark-up policy at the Livermore Municipal Airport has become a point of contention between the committee and Landeck Aviation which is affected by any adjustments.

Landeck objections will be considered by the committee before implementation of its policy.

The cost of providing temporary portable chemical restrooms at the west end of the airport field and in the vicinity of the T-hangars was investigated by the airport staff at the committee's request.

The rental rate for such units, including service, is $36 for each per month, the committee will learn Tuesday.

The committee also asked staff to obtain the official Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) policy regarding radio control of runway lights as an energy saving proposal.

According to the FAA response, the agency "supports the conservation of energy in all phases of transportation" but its calculations show "there are little savings in turning off runway lights versus operating the lights at low intensity."

SRV group spurs supporter drive for cityhood vote

DANVILLE — The local incorporation group is making a final push to gather enough signatures to put the question of cityhood for San Ramon Valley on the November ballot.

Nearly 5,000 valid signatures are necessary.

The Taxpayers for Local Control through Incorporation (TLC) hopes to collect 6,000 signatures by June 14.

A final decision on the suit against the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFC) brought by Broadmoor Homes Inc. is expected by the end of July.

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors must approve the incorporation issue by that time for it to appear on the November ballot.

Broadmoor contends that an environmental impact report should be made to determine the effects of incorporation before residents of Alamo, Danville and San Ramon vote on the matter.

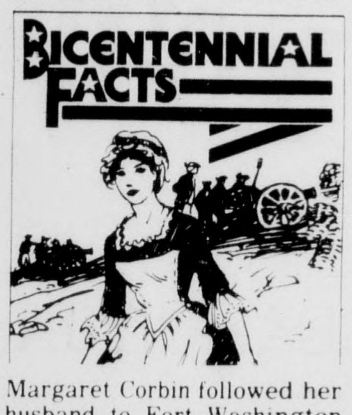
The trial portion of the hearing between Broadmoor and LAFC ended Tuesday. Final written arguments will now be presented to Judge Max Wilcox Jr. by Broadmoor and the county counsl's office, which represents LAFC.

Don Sledge, chairman of TLC, said he's optimistic about the outcome of the trial.

However, he emphasizes the major hurdle now is gathering enough signatures on the incorporation petitions.

TLC has already gathered 4,500 signatures.

Persons interested in signing a petition or helping gather signatures can call Florence McAuley, 837-9565; John Meakin, 829-3795; or Sherry Heatherly, 837-2876.



Margaret Corbin followed her husband to Fort Washington and was at his side in battle on November 16, 1776, when he fell, mortally wounded, beside his cannon. Margaret took his place until she too was hit, her breast and shoulder torn by grapeshot. She never regained the use of her arm. Recognizing her courage under fire, Congress made Margaret the first woman pensioner of the United States. Margaret Corbin is the only woman from the Revolution buried in West Point cemetery, The World Almanac notes.

A Vote for Raymond

Supervisor John D. Murphy has represented the southern and eastern sections of Alameda County since 1960, but in those 16 years he has grown more and more isolated from his constituency.

The once-vigorous supervisor appears to have grown bored with his job.

By contrast, Valerie Raymond of Livermore offers voters in the sprawling 1st Supervisorial District a chance for real representation with fresh input and better participation.

Mr. Murphy considered retiring from the board in 1972. Voters should help with with that decision now by casting their ballots for Mrs. Raymond.

She offers a new and energetic force for a neglected district. It is time for a change and The Tribune recommends a vote for Valerie Raymond.

Warm, loving and good

She brings the Good News to children

By REINA WHITNEY

Mother Teresa of Calcutta, the selfless nun whose work with the poor and the dying has gained world-wide fame, said during a recent symposium on the religious life, "Religious must live the word of God. It is joy to be a Religious because of the opportunities for Religious today to do something beautiful for God."

The parishioners of St Raymond's Parish in Dublin feel they have such a Religious overseeing their Confraternity of Christian Doctrine School of Religion in the form of one Sister Mary Angela.

She typifies the "joy" Mother Teresa was talking about. Barely over 100 pounds, this ever-smiling sister is an administrative dynamo. Although she hopes to receive her masters in administration this summer at the University of San Francisco, those who work closely with her feel she has more than exceeded her qualifications for the degree.

She oversees the religious education of more than 1500 children from pre-school age to grade eight in a program larger in numbers than most of the schools in the Murray School or San Ramon School Districts which the Catholic parish encompasses. Sister Angela does this with the help of an all-volunteer staff, which includes 162 teachers, helpers and rotating office personnel.

Did Sister Angela, the San Francisco-born Adrienne Persano, daughter of Jenisio and Angelina Persano, always want to be a nun? "No," she laughingly says, "I wanted to be a prima ballerina!" It wasn't until she had entered the job market for three years as a sales representative for a cosmetic firm, that the thought of being a religious even entered her mind.

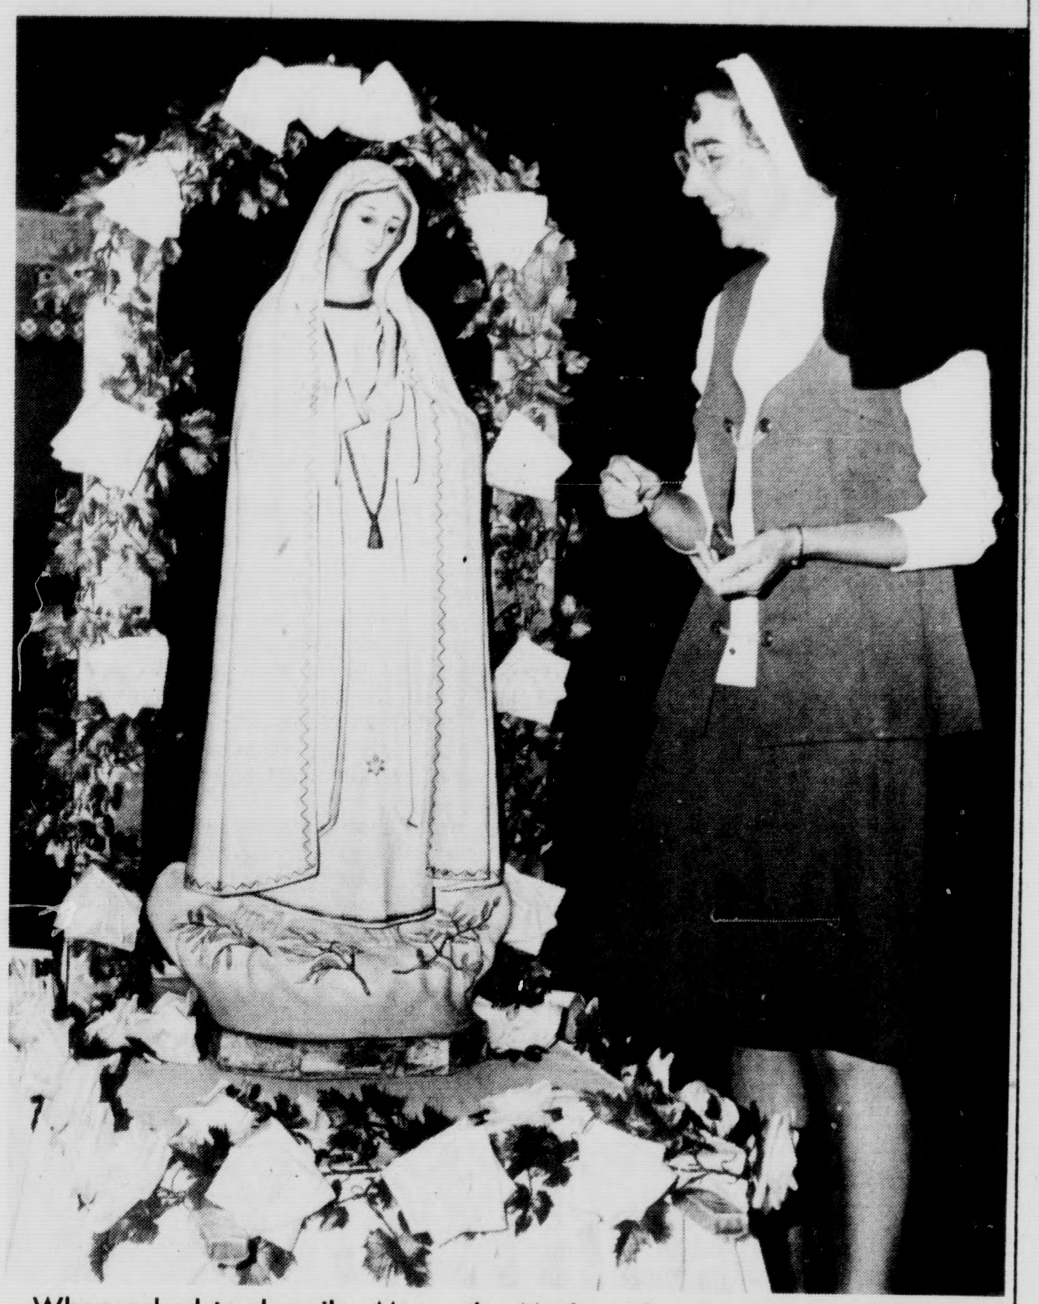
She says she was helping as a volunteer teacher in the religious education of the handicapped children program in her own parish of San Gabriel in San Francisco, when the local pastor first planted the seed of a vocation in her mind. He no doubt could see the dedicated way in which she handled her charges. She also credits her grandparents and her brother with giving her the most encouragement to pursue her spiritual calling.

She joined the Holy Family Sisters in July 1960, chosing this particular order of nuns because they are solely dedicated to the teaching of religion at the parish level. Even though most of her work at St. Raymond's is in Administration, she says she will always have time to teach some classes and keep her one-to-one connection with the children.

A typical day for Sister Angela would be to arrive at the C.C.D. office at nine in the morning. Training classes for teachers, workshops, meetings with area coordinators or lesson planning sessions may fill up her mornings. Classes for the children are held six days of the week from the time they are released from school until 7:30 p.m. Pre-schoolers come to the church during the week. Classes for the children living in Komandorski Village, make-up classes and classes for older children studying for the Sacraments are held on Saturday mornings. More teacher training meetings, specialized workshops or enrichment classes at night fill out the week for a busy, dedicated nun.

Declaring she has always loved to work with people, she makes certain to keep a personal contact with the parents of the children. This is done through home visits and parents being requestad to visit or attend meetings, especially for those children attending the Sacrament classes, which sometimes number 150 at the eighth grade level.

As a religious with a true openness to the signs of the times, she has never deserted her first love of "the dance." She tries to incorporate the feeling of dancing, singing or any of the arts into the Liturgy that is especially planned for the children throughout the year.



When asked to describe Mary, the Mother of God, a child in the CCD program at St. Raymond's in Dublin responded "I think she's like Sister Angela — warm, loving and good." Sister Angela, who administers the CCD program, puts the final touch on the May procession Float.

60th anniversary

'Livermore's been very good to us, we are very happy here,' declared Mr. and Mrs. Tom Irby of Livermore who celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary tonight with the many friends they have made here since their arrival in 1938. The couple was married in Okmulgee, Okla., farming and working the oil fields in that state. Mrs. Irby is a retired school teacher; Tom, retired as a boiler operator at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory. Their only son, Richard, operates Irby's Milk and Eggs on Stanley Boulevard, and two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren live in the Bay Area. The Irbys will be feted at a reception at Trinity Baptist Church hall at 8 p.m. with all friends welcome.

Where we stand on ballot issues

To review briefly the recommendations offered our readers on those June 8 ballot items that appear to be of upmost interest to the Valley's populace:

In the spirited race for three seats on that Zone 7 Flood Control and Water Conservation District board of directors, The Times maintains that "a good mix" of the various factions and philosophies would best enhance that panel.

By electing Archer Futch (former mayor of Livermore); Ed Kinney (Pleasanton's immediate past mayor); and Dave Harris (a Sunol resident and incumbent chairman of the Zone 7 board), the broadest kind of representation would seem assured, and that panel might then get to work on this Valley's complex water problems.

As to Alameda County's First Supervisorial District, The Times has found that the challengers for John Murphy's office have failed to provide the "clear alternative" which has been the busis of their candidacy. In the knowledge that Murphy will doubtless be one of the two survivors of that June primary test, we will wait to see who his opponent is, and the depth of his or her platform, before offering our own recommendation in advance of that November runoff.

In the Fifth Supervisorial District of Contra Costa County which includes all of San Ramon Valley, our recommendation goes to Eric Hasseltine.

Among the 15 state - wide propositions included in the June ballot, two would seem to be of particular Valley interest.

The "Nuclear Initiative" is a complicated and emotional issue, too complex and too emotional in our opinion to be resolved by an equally complex initiative measure. We therefore recommend a "No" vote on Prop. 15.

Prop. 4 would provide funds for Community College facilities, including perhaps some badly - needed and much - deserved expansion for the Chabot College Valley Campus. Our recommendation is "Yes" on Prop. 4.

Prop. 9 might also be of special interest to those alley residents who have always found enjoyment in "social bingo." Now there is opportunity to legalize and control an entertainment that is, at worst, no more harmful and surely not more expensive than a neighborhood movie. Support Prop. 9, and keep senior citizens from being "law breakers."

For voters in Dublin, Pleasanton and Sunol, there is a tough decision to make on one or two school tax measures. Their decision rests between the soaring burden of property taxes, and the growing pressure on educators to maintain quality education in our schools, despite the yearly spiral in costs.

The two school tax hike requests appear to be valid, and therefore deserve your support.

FOCUS/Valley ROP

The skills center

In 1970, the Amador Valley Joint High School District and the Livermore Valley Joint Unified School District, with assistance from the Alameda County Schools Department, employed a vocational coordinator to conduct a feasibility study, make recommendations and prepare an application to the State Board of Education for a Joint Powers Regional Occupational Program to serve the two districts.

From that tentative start has come a program that includes facilities costing slightly more than half-a-million dollars.

Amador - Livermore ROP, like all others, is directed towards providing a broader curriculum while avoiding unncecessary duplication. The goal is to train students in employable skills regardless of their residence.

Roy Isler, program administrator, believes ROP is able to keep training costs per student hour low by utilizing existing space and equipment, community classroom training areas and employing part-time teachers.

ROP curriculum is coordinated closely with high school vocational, adult school and community colleges.

Isler meets regularly with the Chabot high school curriculum sub-committee for vocational education, the purpose being articulation and course approval.

For the past school year, Amador - Livermore ROP had a certificated instructional staff of 18 in the fields of auto body repair, office machine operator, child care, nursing, tree surgery, butchering, landscape construction, sales and merchandising, water plant operator and cosmetology.

These courses prepare young people to be skilled members of the blue collar work force of the future.

A follow-up study of 1974-75 ROP students disclosed that 131 wer available for employment. Eighty-one of them are employed either full-time or part-time in the occupation or related occupation for which they received training.

The data, Isler reports, does not represent any substantial change from follow-up data of previous years.

In five years, ROP has progressed from seven vocational classes and a budget of $122,000 to 16 classes and a total budget of $558,011.

All indications point to ROP expansion in the years to come.

Letters to the Times

Reject increase

Editor, The Times:

Stories have appeared in our local papers during the past week or ten days on behalf of the two revenue increase measures on next Tuesdays election ballot.

At the same time these headlines were appearing there also appeared a comprehensive story from the Board of Supervisors indicating that their budget was in deep trouble. However they were told that it could be financed without any increase in the tax rate if there is a 12% increase in the assessed valuation of the property in the county.

On Monday, May 24, 1976 the City Council of Pleasanton argued the City of Pleasanton Budget, which, if balanced, in its present form, would require a modest tax increase of 5 cents per $100.00 of assessed valuation.

Now, if the assessed valuation of your property is increased — you can appear and complain. You can also appear at a council meeting and complain, but that is all you can do complain. You can however vote in Tuesdays election and decide by your vote that you do not want your taxes increase by $.68 the first year and more the second and third years. You can vote No. This is the only part of your tax bill that you as a taxpayer can directly control by your vote.

We now learn that the assessed valuation increase will probably be 16% as opposed to 12%. Mayor Philcox has estimated that subject 16% increase would mean an additional $250,000, to the city. What would this increase mean to you?

If you own a home now assessed at $40,000. You pay tax on 25% or $10,000. of this $40,000. $13.13 per $100. of $10,000. equals 1,313.00 your present taxes.

Assessed valuation increased 16% now assessed at $46,400. You pay tax on 25% of $11,600 of this $46,400. $13.13 per $100. of $11,600. equals $1,523.00 you new tax.

If we add $.68 per $100. in new school aide the 1st year look $13.13 per $100 becomes $13.81 per $100. $13.81 per $100. of $11,600. equal $1,601.96 your new tax with school revenue added. Your taxes have now increased $288.00 for the year. Over what you presently pay. If your house is presently assessed for more than $40,000. The net increase becomes even more starteling.

Lets forget all the Propeganda and just look at the hard facts. Can retired, senior citizens, young folks just starting out and others afford to have this kind of money added to their yearly tax bill this next year? And there is more to come in succeeding years. You have a choice Vote No on the Revenue increase measures on Tuesday.

The bite

Editor, The Times:

For those of you in the Amador - Pleasanton Area, who may be confused by the wording on your sample ballot regarding measures A and B, we wish to explain what the actual costs will be to the homeowner.

Our meetings with homeowners and service clubs revealed that some people have over estimated the impact on their property tax. The Amador Valley Joint Union High School District and the Pleasanton Joint School District are asking the voters' permission to increase their property tax so that the education program in this valley can be maintained at its present level. But we don't want it to appear worse than it is.

The assessor establishes a "full value" for your home, which is significantly less than the market value. For example, a home that actually sells for $60,000 has an "Assessor's Full Value" of $40,000, as set by the assessor. The assessed value of a home with the "Assessor's Full Value" of $40,000 is 25% of the cash value, or $10,000. The tax rate increase is calculated on the $10,000 assessed value. Under Measure A, the proposed first year tax rate increase for the Amador District of 24.8 cent will cost $24.80 more on your tax bill, which is less than 7 cents per day more. The proposed tax rate increase on the same house in the Pleasanton School District, resulting from passing Measure B will be 44.7 cents, or $44.70 more on your tax bill, equalling about 12 cents per day.

Similar small increases in your property tax will occur on houses of greater or lesser worth, as follows:

With Measure A, Amador District, the "Assessor's Full Value," of $30,000, the assessed value would be $7,500, with an annual tax increase of $18.60, daily cost of 5.1 cents. The "Assessor's Full Value" of $40,000, the assessed value would be $10,000, with an annual tax increase of $24.80, daily cost of 6.8 cents. The "Assessor's Full Value" of $50,000, the assessed value would be $12,500, with an annual tax increase of $31.00, daily cost of 8.5 cents. The "Assessor's Full Value" of $60,000, the assessed value would be $15,000, with an annual tax increase of $37.20, daily cost of 10.2 cents.

With Measure B, pleasanton School District, the "Assessor's Full Value" of $30,000, the assessed value would be $7,500, with an annual tax increase of $33.53, daily cost of 9.2 cents. The "Assessor's Full Value" of $40,000, the assessed value would be $10,000, with an annual tax increase of $44.70, daily cost of 12.2 cents. The "Assessor's Full Value" of $50,000, the assessed value would be $12,500, with an annual tax increase of $55.88, daily cost of 15.3 cents. The "Assessor's Full Value" of $60,000, the assessed value would be $15,000, with an annual tax increase of $67.05, daily cost of 18.4 cents.

As your elected representatives, we are convinced the additional funds are necessary for the schools in the Pleasanton District and the Amador Valley High School District, and we urge you to vote "Yes" on Measure A and B on June 8th.

No team

Editor, The Times:

Numerous editorials have espoused that Schweser and Kinney would make a great team on the Zone 7 Board because they will cooperate and vote together for the common cause. This can only be conjecture by the editorials (but if so, wouldn't this be a slate?). Anyway, Kinney's record on important issues disprove this. Consider, for instance: When Livermore council requested Pleasanton council to back its opposition to the proposed "Geldertown," Kinney was the only one to vote "No"! He gave a phony excuse for it. Then in 1975 and again in 1976 Kinney's was the only No vote on the wording of the Redevelopment Agency ballot measure, and also on the resolution to rescind it. Over a long period Kinney adamantly insisted that Pleasanton reemburse Zone 7 for water hookups at the 5/8" pipe rate when using 3/4" pipe meters, even tho the Zone was empowered to set the rate!

Then on a move to table the request for approval to transfer a septic tank agreement from one owner to the new one, until proof of ownership was established, Kinney's vote was the only No vote. And on requests by the Firefighters to allow banners to hang from the Pleasanton sign across Main Street during festivities, Kinney twice voted No, alone! In an apparent effort to promoting goodwill, Mayor Kinney wrote Dr. Schlies such an optomistic letter pertaining to sewer connections that the latter is now sueing the city for non-performance!

Does this record look like one of cooperation and coordination? I would liken it to bullheadedness. If Kinney votes with Schweser on technical issues I would dub it coincidental or of one leading the other. The latter, incidentally, was defeated as the incumbent in 1971. He was appointed to VCSD by none other than John D. Murphy. Schweser's vote as a member of LAFC regional committee, to reduce Livermore's sphere of influence, certainly makes him suspect as being the proper type of individual for the Zone 7 Board. The fact that Schwerer was never elected to the VCSD indicates the low confidence his peers had in him.

Rather than the above two candidates, candidates Futch and Miller offer a great deal more value to our Tri-Valley area.

Editor, The Times:

On behalf of the Bluebird "Dolphins" and the other leaders of our group I would like to thank the Pleasanton Times for sending Mrs. Ault to our meeting to photograph the girls.

Receiving certificates from Pete Giddings for the use of their weather picture on KGO-TV was a thrill for the girls; but they were even more excited to see their group photograph in your paper!

Bargains

Editor, The Times:

As both a residential and business property taxpayer, I am very concerned about our continually increasing property taxes. But before complaining or making too quick a decision to vote against all items that would increase taxes, we should take a good look at what we're getting for our dollars.

Take a look at the analysis on your property tax bill as to where the funds go. Look at what our local city, schools, and other services receive. Then think about all we get for those dollars.

Our public schools are one of the best bargains we have in this country. I personally feel that Pleasanton has a very good school system. However, we cannot expect them to continue to provide our children with quality education unless they are given adequate support. After all, that is the least we should do as our investment in the next generation who will soon have a voice in determining not only their future, but our own futures as well.

I strongly recommend voting Yes on Measure A and B next Tuesday.

round the town

"Where did I come from, Daddy?"

It was only in my unguarded moments that I dared ask my father such a question. His best response, as I recollect it, was — "I don't know why you got here, but I've got a pretty good idea where you're headed." To no good, he figured.

It was, in fairness, that time when few men had hope, and few children dared dream beyond the promise of another meal. But the meal always came, somehow, and for that I would be ever indebted to my father, gruff and tired though he might often be.

He was a man of considerable talent, I came to realize. But by the time I came along, sixth child in a family that could scarcely afford to raise one, his talents had been lost in the day - to - day struggle for survival. Cabinet maker in his own father's apprenticeship, self - taught engineer, outstanding cricket player and keen hunter, my father was the type of man who would have fared well, in this country, and in this highly competitive era.

But he cast his lot onto the prairies of Canada, through one Great War and two Great Depressions. And his greatest claim to fame was that he never missed a day's work, or sought out one dollar of charity, throughout it all.

It has taken me many years to respect the full measure of his triumph. It has taken almost a lifetime before I would be able to go back to the root of the man, the place where he began.

"Derby," mother would tell me, "is pronounced DAR - bee." It was the one lesson on my father's home town that stuck with me. Oh, there were all those stories about his great prowess as a bike rider, as a bare - knuckle boxer, as a bowler who knocked down a blessed number of crickets, or whatever it is they do.

But those were the fairy tales that all fathers relate to all children. Particularly the always- captive baby, in a brood of six.

He would tell his stories through a long winter's evening when there was little else to entertain. He would play me cribbage by the hour, and when I grew tired of being fifteen - two'd to death, I would distract him with a question such as — "Did you really bike from Derby to London, in one day?" And away he would go, again.

And it was then, in the imagination of youth suddenly released from the snow - bound Canadian winter, that I too would ride my bike along those tree - shaded lanes in Sussex and Suffolk, Oxfordshire and Yorkshire and all the other wonderful - sounding places of my father's youth.

Someday, I would promise me, I will visit those places, talk to those people, have a glass of black stout in the pub where father's trophies are proudly displayed. Someday.

But, as with all childhood dreams, there were other goals to distract, other quests to attract. I would criss - cross this continent a dozen times, span the Pacific Ocean and even get half way across the Atlantic, but never reach England's shores. Never return to "The Old Country."

Until now. God and a chartered airline willing, Gene and I are in England even as you read this piece. I would hope to share something of our experience, some of the excitement of our discovery with you, as we travel through the British Isles.

Even the expenses we encounter might be of interest to those of you who might contemplate such a journey. Already we have been warned that "hotel and meal prices are terribly high, particularly in London." A sister, Kay, who has been in London for some years with the Canadian Foreign Affairs, has guided us to "a nice but less expensive hotel" on the fringe of London's busy hub.

We hoped to escape much of the major cost well before we left Oakland on that ten - hour flight to London. By making our reservations 90 days in advance, and paying the air fare 60 days before departure, we got by for $390 each, round trip That is just less than half of the scheduled airline fare, coach class.

We are not on a tour. Our schedule locks us in on date of departure and date of return, nothing more. In between, we are entirely on our own. One other pre - departure investment we made was in a BritRail pass — $80 each to assure us up to seven days of rail travel, anywhere within the British Isles, and for any seven - day period we choose once in England.

But this is to be a vacation, not an adventure in lower finance. The house and the dog and the newspaper are in good hands. England and Scotland and Ireland beckon. It is the dream of a lifetime, at long last come true.

MIKE ZAMPA

Strike three?

The folks who make livings (as well as those who lose them) on the horses, must be dismayed by the Alameda County strike. A prolonged walkout by Service Employe International Union members could sabotage the county fair at Pleasanton, and along with it, the major stop on the summer racing circuit.

It could be the final discouraging blow to the racing industry, which has suffered through a gloomy season already. Two major track strikes, sizeable revenue losses — it's enough to make a horse owner turn to worm ranching as a pastime.

The Alameda County Fair could be in for its biggest season of horse racing ever. Because so much time was lost during two strikes at Golden Gate Fields this season, horse players and horse owners may be looking at Pleasanton to make up ground.

If the county strike carries into July, however, pickets could shut down the fair. Nearly $10 million in parimutuel wagering would be lost Horsemen would be faced with feed and stable costs for unproductive thoroughbreds.

A gloomy prospect, and perhaps, a dangerous one for Bay Area racing.

Walkouts during the Golden Gate and Tanforan Racing meets this year chased some horse owners out of Northern California. Fixed costs with no opportunity at a return on the animal forced them out. Bitterness may have also played a role.

The lengthy Golden Gate strike was harsh. When the same employes walked off the job during the Tanforan meet, frustrations must have boiled over.

Interruption of the usually trouble free fair circuit could become the last straw for disenchanted owners.

There was to be no labor trouble at the Pleasanton track this summer. Employe contracts, based loosely on those of the major tracks, are still in force fo another year. Wage disputes are uncommon anyway, because fair employes realize it is a world of lowered expectations.

But no one could foresee a walkout of the county's work force. It never occured to anybody that pickets would rim the fairgrounds. Of course the strike may be settled by opening day of the fair. Or perhaps the union will continue to hold back pickets, as it has so far.

Initial estimates, however, say the strike could last a month. If it does, a shut down of the county fair would be a powerful weapon on the side of labor.

Not only the horse industry suffers by a walk out, but also local and state government units. The city of Albany was rocked by the Golden Gate shut down, not to mention the state treasury. Both receive a share of the racing take.

County fair administration could be seriously damaged if there's no racing in Pleasanton.

It's just another problem to fret over, which should be nothing new to racing people here. They faced a major one last winter if there's no racing in Pleasanton.

It's just another problem to fret over, which should be nothing new to racing people here. They faced a major one last winter when labor swung the fairground track like a war club. Richard Groulx, secretary for the Alameda County Central Labor Council demanded that the entire Golden Gate Fields meet be shifted here. The same cry went up in the spring during the Tanforan walk out.

The local gentry, went bonkers. Giant traffic snarls were predicted. Overloaded sewers were expected.

Nobody wanted an extra two months of racing. The city couldn't derive any tax revenue from a one-shot race meet, but it would end up paying for all those extra race fans.

The moans of protest subsided once the janitors went back to work at Golden Gate Fields.

People were content to spend the winter by the hearth, waiting for June and Pleasanton's rightful weeks of thoroughbred racing.

Now they wonder if they'll be left with nothing.

Same old crust

According to the National Wildlife Federation, the American alligator has survived almost unchanged for more than 35 million years. It is a direct descendant from the Mesozoic period — an age of dinosaurs and flying reptiles.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Normally, wherever you go you generate action. Today your presence will have a very soothing effect on others.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You may find someone willing to help you wrap up an old task you've been putting off. It will be a welcome relief.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Although you'll be in a gregarious mood today, you'll also want to be around serious thinkers to exchange worthwhile ideas.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You know how to get real mileage out of a dollar today and could pick up some good bargains. This is particularly true of household items.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) They'll take notice today if you voice an opinion during a discussion. Others sense you're not given to making idle remarks.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you expect an old debt to be repaid, call the person aside today and give him a gentle reminder. Otherwise, it just won't happen.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Stand up and be counted if anything threatens an old friend today. Your realationship has been a good one. Your loyalty will strengthen it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You function best as the power behind the throne today — and you enjoy it! Exposure will lessen your chances of success.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A group you're affiliated with may ask you to take on added responsibilities today. Don't shirk. They really need your help.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Challenge stimulates you today to the point where you might volunteer to take on things others run away from. What's more, you'll do it!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't ask for criticism today from a friend who always tells it like it is, unless you're prepared to face the truth.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You are especially determined today and will accomplish what you set out to do. Surprisingly, your best efforts will go to help someone else.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER
Q.
"WHAT IS AN AUROCHS ?"
RITA CELONE NEW HAVEN, CT

AN AUROCHS IS AN EXTINCT WILD OX OF EUROPE FROM WHICH MANY BREEDS OF DOMESTIC CATTLE ARE DESCENDED

DICK ROGERS
6/7

The aurochs (pronounced ow roks) is an extinct wild ox that once roamed the forests of Europe.

This enormous, black-colored animal from which our domestic cattle are descended often measured six feet high at the shoulders and had long, forward-curving horns. Prehistoric men of Europe hunted and ate this giant ox.

Cave paintings from thousands of years ago record the aurochs hunt. Later, man learned to keep herds of cattle for meat and milk and herdsmen quickly became more important than hunters.

The last of the true aurochs died in 1627. But the aurochs left behind such present-day breeds of cattle as the Holstein, Shorthorn, and Aberdeen Angus.

Since the extinction of the true aurochs, the name "aurochs" has sometimes been wrongly applied to the only other wild ox of Europe, the European bison, or wisent (a cousin to the American bison), which survives. Another name for the aurochs is "urus."

A World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

New valley health service pondered

A new program proposed by Fairmont Hospital to meet the health care needs of the Livermore - Amador Valley will be considered for approval and funding by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors on June 10.

Under the proposal, a professional outreach team from the Fairmont Outpatient Care Sevices would bring primary care services to Livermore and Pleasanton, as well as to others areas in Southern Alameda County.

The team would be dispatched to properly licensed sites on a rotational basis, based on demand and demonstrated need.

The team would be staffed with one full-time physician, a half-time nurse practitioner, a nutritionist, a registered nurse, a licensed vocational nurse, and additional supporting staff.

The total estimated cost will be $158,000 for the first year.

Supervisors will consider the program on June 10 at 10 a.m., Room 536, Board Chambers, County Administration Building, 1221 Oak St., Oakland.

Citizens who wish to attend the meeting to show support for the program and have questions may call Tot Green, 447-7258, for more information.

Valley group to evaluate health study

An evaluation of mental health services that has been requested by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors is scheduled to be released this month.

Matthew Golden of the Office of Program Evaluation and director of the team that made the mental health study, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Livermore - Amador Valley Area Citizens' Advisory Council to the Health Care Services Agency.

The group will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 10 in Conference Room 3 at Valley Memorial Hospital in Livermore.

Golden will discuss the process of evaulation, the evaluation report, and recommendations for county action.

The public is invited to attend.

John D. Murphy for Supervisor

BACK IN 1964, after completing one term on the Alameda County Board of Supervisors, First District Supervisor John D. Murphy received the first "free ride" in the history of the district. He won re-election without opposition.

No one can say it's a free ride this year! And we are certain he doesn't deserve all the pecking that he's getting this spring as he bids for his fifth term.

The campaign in the First District is more than anything else a contest in which the challengers compete to see who can stick it to the incumbent loudest and longest. The monotonous rehash of discredited charges does nothing to educate voters about the important issues of county government nor does it tell about the approaches the challengers would take if elected. Their concentration on Murphy's record does hint strongly that they lack well thought out programs of their own.

Murphy's record isn't perfect. We have quarelled with his positions often and we expect we will in the future. But we have found him an honest, perceptive and hardworking officeholder. At 51, he is rich in experience but still enthusiastic about his role in government. He is conservative by nature and conviction, representative of a district that is distinctly middle class and middle-of-the-road.

Murphy's 16-year record includes being the prime mover in obtaining county control over the Santa Rita property and spurring the board to improving conditions there. He was recently instrumental in bringing the South County Government Center to Fremont. He has been in the forefront of county flood control efforts, and in obtaining the federal assistance for them.

On what is perhaps the issue of this campaign, growth, Murphy is generally on the side on encouraging a controlled but continuing development of the area he represents. In the First District, with more open space than the rest of the county put together, that attitude has brought him into bitter conflict with the environmental zealots. But it should win him even more support among those who understand that the jobs this county needs, the homes its young families want and are entitlted to, the taxes that its schools and cities need to perform their function will not result if reasonable development proposals are constantly hamstrung.

We believe that John D. Murphy merits re-election. He is the clearly superior choice, the one who will get tax payers the most for their tax dollars while seeing that reasonable growth opportunities in the interest of working people, business and good government continue.

RE-ELECT JOHN D. MURPHY, SUPERVISOR

PAID FOR BY COMMITTEE TO RE-ELECT MURPHY, JOHN M. STANLEY, TREAS.

We think four "yesses" and a "no" on June 8 are important to us all. Here's why.

You've been hearing a great deal lately about the importance of the California June 8 primary election to the national political scene. Equally important to Californians, we believe, are several nonpartisan ballot measures which could have decided impact on the business and industrial community in this state for years to come. They might even affect your job.

Because these issues are so important to a healthy economic climate in California, Kaiser Industries has taken public positions on several ballot measures, as stated below:

Proposition 1	State School Building Lease — Purchase	Vote Yes
Proposition 3	Safe Drinking Water	Vote Yes
Proposition 4	Public Community College Facilities	Vote Yes
Proposition 12	Interest Rate Amendment	Vote Yes
Proposition 15	Nuclear Power Plant Initiative	Vote No

Printed below for your review are detailed position papers on these five propositions.

We hope that after reading them and analyzing all the material available for consideration before the election, you will find it possible to join with us in support of Propositions 1, 3, 4 and 12 and in opposition to Proposition 15.

In any event, please remember to vote on Tuesday, June 8.

PROPOSITION 1
STATE SCHOOL BUILDING LEASE-PURCHASE

If passed, this measure would decrease the cost of financing school construction, provide a less complicated way for school districts to finance new construction and permit districts to modernize or replace dilapidated school buildings that are more than 30 years old.

Under this program districts are encouraged to rehabilitate existing facilities rather than replace them. There will be no cost to the state and no state tax dollars are involved. No project will be built without favorable vote of the school district voters.

Proposition 1 simplifies and reduces the cost of lease-purchase agreements and guarantees 100% repayment for the facilities constructed.

A favorable vote on Proposition 1 will guarantee local taxpayers the opportunity to vote on any proposed local school project under this act and guarantee the lowest possible cost to the local people who must pay for it.

PROPOSITION 3
SAFE DRINKING WATER

Clean, healthy drinking water is a basic necessity of life. That's why it is so important to vote YES on Proposition 3.

If our drinking water systems are allowed to deteriorate, serious health problems can result. The U.S. Public Health Service has revealed statistics which show a marked increase in water-related illness in many states — a condition which we must work to avoid in California.

Proposition 3 will help deal with the safe drinking water problem by creating a low-cost loan program for immediate upgrading of our domestic water supplies. This will be done at no cost to the taxpayer.

Proposition 3 is a sensible answer to a serious problem. It will help make sure that every Californian can have safe, clean drinking water without new taxes and without huge water rate increases.

PROPOSITION 4
PUBLIC COMMUNITY COLLEGE FACILITIES

Proposition 4 will provide state funds to maintain and expand facilities in California's 103 public community colleges. It will help protect homeowners from excessive increases in local property taxes for capital construction.

If this bond issue is not approved, the state may be forced to refuse to provide its share of construction costs and renege on its long term commitment to the community colleges. The effect would be to shift total costs of community college construction to local property taxpayers, with the greatest increase in property tax rates in the areas of greatest expansion.

In almost all community colleges throughout the state there have been substantial increases in enrollment which require expansion of existing college facilities and replacement of old, obsolete or unsafe facilities.

The approval of Proposition 4 will give the state the authority to sell $150 million in bonds, when they are needed, to assist community college districts, continuing the state-local partnership in providing educational opportunities for all the citizens of California.

PROPOSITION 12
INTEREST RATE AMENDMENT

If approved, this measure will amend a 41-year old provision in the California State Constitution to allow present "non-exempt" lenders (such as insurance and mortgage companies and pension funds) to make business loans in California at interest rates above the existing 10% ceiling. Banks, State savings and loan associations, and most other lending institutions are already exempt from the 10% ceiling.

Proposition 12 will not alter safeguards for borrowers who need loans for personal, family, home or household purposes; nor small business borrowers who customarily borrow from exempt institutions.

Only three states — California, Arkansas and Tennesssee — presently have a ceiling as low as 10% on business loans. Constitutional law thereby places California at a disadvantage in attracting capital for housing construction and business expansion.

Under present law, when market conditions command higher interest rates, California companies providing over 90% of the State's jobs may be denied credit for expansion. The California unemployment rate is already 25% higher than the average throughout the United States. Employment opportunities for Californians are permanently lost when productive facilities are shifted to other states where construction funds are available. This could also result in higher prices for consumer goods for Californians because of added shipping costs and lack of local competition to provide the same goods.

Establishing a flexible ceiling on interest rates for large business borrowers does not increase business costs significantly. Interest costs are a small proportion of total costs in manufacturing businesses. Therefore the amount of cost pass-through to the consumer will be negligible.

Passage of Proposition 12 will bring significant, long-lasting economic benefits to the Inland Empire and California. It is an important step toward creating more jobs, reducing price inflation of consumer goods, and aiding the state and regional economic recovery. California companies, and the construction industry where unemployment is particularly severe, must become able to compete equally in the marketplace with businesses headquartered elsewhere.

Workers, consumers, and the business economy in Califorina will benefit from passage of Proposition 12.

PROPOSITION 15
NUCLEAR POWER PLANT INITIATIVE

Kaiser Industries Corporation opposes passage of Proposition 15, The Nuclear Power Initiative, on June 8, 1976. The Company is opposed because:

1. The Initiative would curtail power production from existing plants and block construction of additional plants unless federal liability limits were removed. That does not appear likely since the limits were recently reenacted.
2. The Initiative would curtail and eventually shut down nuclear power production unless within five years the California Legislature determined that nuclear power plants are virtually risk free. No comparable requirement exists for alternative power sources. As few as 14 negative Senate votes or 24 Assembly votes, could halt the use of nuclear power in California.

   Moreover, in 20 years of commercial nuclear power production there has not been a single accident resulting in loss of life or known impairment of health resulting from the use of fissionable material for electrical generation. There are presently 59 nuclear power plants in operation in the United States.
3. There is not an adequate supply of domestic fossil fuel nor any practical competitive alternate to support projected industrial and residential energy demands. Increasing reliance on foreign petroleum will materially deteriorate our foreign exchange. The economy could be seriously crippled, as we have seen already, by the turn of a valve.

   Phasing out our nuclear power plants and prohibiting new construction would make our economy dependent on foreign countries.

   If California's nuclear power plants now operating and under construction were shut down, as they would be by 1987 if the Initiative were passed, the estimated cost to California residents would be substantial: (a) $7 billion to construct coal and oil fired replacement plants by 1987, and (b) $800 million per year in higher operating costs of coal and oil fired plants. These costs exclude any consideration for increased consumption. With any economic growth in California, however small, these costs would continue to rise year by year. Even greater increases would occur were there another Mid-East oil embargo.

   California might well become an undesirable location for further industrial expansion or even for maintenance of the status quo. Businesses and employment may move to states where there is nuclear power, for assurances of power supplies at reasonable cost.

   For those industries and companies such as Kaiser Industries, periodic interruptions of electrical service are even now projected.
4. The impact on business, employment, availability and cost of power would be substantial. Employment is created by stable economic growth, and endangered by dependency on foreign power sources.

Letters to the Times

Life with Don

Editor, The Times:

During the past 2½ years, both as a director and as current President of V.C.S.D. I have had the experience of working with Don Miller on the L.A.V.W.M.A. Board. You should know what that experience was like.

Way back when, as L.A.V.W.M.A. was considering alternatives to the now adopted pipeline, it was Don who pushed vigorously for a dilution program. He finally admitted to me his reasoning — if we were to use up all the water reserve by diluting the effluent, we would effectively stop growth.

In fact, up until the final decision was made, Don held out hope for the "do nothing" alternative — another stop growth move.

When L.A.V.W.M.A. considered having the Zone participate with us, it was Don who consistently reminded us that the Zone members were nothing more than pawns or dupes, or mere extensions of the ever-evil County Board of Supervisors.

Archer Futch worked long and hard on a memoranda of understanding between the Zone and L.A.V.W.M.A. It was primarily Don who insisted that the agreement be changed so as to delete the Zone's potential sewer powers. Well, so much for cooperation.

It soon became apparent that having Donned the self-righteous cloak of Miller, one could castigate, villify and other slander those who dared to hold a contrary view.

Now, Don is not all bad. However, because of his single - minded obsession to stop growth — all growth — it is my belief that Don Miller's election to the Zone 7 Board would be a liability to the orderly and healthy growth of our Valley in the year to come.

Mistaken identity

Editor, The Times:

I have been amazed by public reports linking my name with support of Proposition 15. I do not support Proposition 15 and I have not been approached by anyone nor do I have any inkling as to how my name became linked with it in articles in your paper and others.

I have only recently made up my mind on Proposition 15. From my experience of five years in the industry as an engineer and physicist, I am personally not greatly concerned with the problem of nuclear reactor safety. However, I do not believe the problem of radioactive waste storage has been solved.

In light of the passage of the Warren bills and Governor Brown's signature I think the problem has been obviated. Proposition 15 is unnecessary and, therefore, I have determined to vote "no" on the issue.

As director and chairman of the Zone 7 Board and candidate for re-election to that Board, I resent the unauthorized use of my name..

Truth In Advertising

By now you have seen the proliferation of election signs.

The same candidate who removed business signs because they were allegedly on public property has placed signs willy-nilly on private property.

One sign asks cooperation. Cooperation is a two way street.

So far the sign owner hasn't cooperated with anyone that we know of.

He doesn't want Geldertown. None of the 8 candidates has favored Geldertown.

He will save us $. Enough to replace the $1,000,000 lost by his delaying tactics on project 2?

But perhaps we do get to the truth. Do the drops of water on the sign mean our last drop of water or do we get our ZONE 7 water drop at a time?

- A man who really cares about our valley and its future

WE REALLY DO NEED GIB!

GILBERT R. MARGUTH, JR. 93 ➡

REMEMBER -
USE YOUR VOTE WISELY ON JUNE 8th!

ELECT GIB MARGUTH ZONE 7

Voters Throughout the First District Want FACTS, Not Fiction

Supervisor Murphy, Let's Have Some Answers!

YOUR OPPONENTS IN THE FIRST SUPERVISORIAL RACE HAVE BEEN FREE-WHEELING AND HARD-SWINGING WITH ALLEGATIONS ABOUT YOUR FOUR-TERM RECORD AND ATTACKS ON YOUR PERSONAL AFFAIRS. THE TIME HAS COME FOR YOUR SIDE OF THE STORY - IF YOU HAVE ONE.

JOHN D. MURPHY HAS SERVED FOR 15½ YEARS AS THE REPRESENTATIVE OF THE FIRST DISTRICT ON THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS. WHAT IS HIS RECORD? WHAT ABOUT THE CHARGES MADE BY HIS OPPONENTS? JUST WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

QUESTION:	ANSWER:
One opponent claims that in 1972, she received 41% of the vote in an eight-week campaign, spending considerably less money than you. Is this true?	In 1972, the length of the campaign was eight weeks for both of us — I surely wasn't campaigning without an opponent. My 59% win, by all political standards, is considered more than a landslide win. Obviously, I must raise and spend more dollars because I have a full time job as Supervisor and must rely on the media to get my message across. I cannot spend the bulk of my time campaigning.
This same opponent claims you deceive the public because you claim full time county work but show real estate and insurance earnings over $10,000.	I work for the people of the county full time. My earnings in real estate are deferred commissions earned some years ago payable over as long as a seven year period, which included one transaction last year. Insurance income is a result of my part ownership in a business in which I have no working involvement.
It is charged that your campaign is financed by special interest groups. Is this true?	No. To date, a total of 305 contributions have been made to my campaign committee. One of my opponents picked a group of 13 names off my first campaign reporting statement and used them for her own purposes — with the intent of distorting and confusing. If she were legitimate, she would have listed the balance of my contributors.
Regarding Las Positas New Town, one of your opponents claims that you "steadfastly supported this land development scheme."	No new town proposal has ever been placed before the Planning Commission, the Board of Supervisors, or the Local Agency Formation Commission. Opponents naturally try to confuse and this is a good example. The Planning Commission and Board of Supervisors did amend the General Plan in the area north of Livermore, but nothing more. L.A.F.C.O. never considered anything but a sphere of influence for Livermore — that is, an area in which the City would be willing and able to provide municipal services. A new town was given no consideration whatsoever.
Your opponents indicate you are supporting Mr. Geldermann. How would you vote on a New Town Proposal?	Unlike my opponents, as the office holder, I cannot take a position pro or con on a proposal prior to its presentation before the Board. It is my feeling that any applicant is entitled to a fair hearing before an objective Board.
You have consistently voted against evening meetings.	I have consistently voted against night meeting at the County Administration Building in Oakland. My constituents have repeatedly indicated a dissatisfaction with night meetings that would put them on the streets of downtown Oakland in the late night hours.
Why don't you hold night meetings in our area and would you favor such meetings?	I do favor night meetings in our area and have so stated whenever the matter has come before the Board. However, all actions of the Board of Supervisors must be taken at the County Seat in Oakland by Charter Mandate.
One of your opponents stated you were pushing a site for a County Government Center at a cost of $500,000 that was assessed at $110,000?	As you know, an assessed value of $110, 000 is an actual market value of $440,000. The total cost was to be less than $500,000, so the difference is really minimal.
Why hasn't the county extended El Charro Road from I-580 to Stanley Blvd.?	It is virtually impossible for the El Charro alignment to cross a total of eight railroad tracks without an overpass or underpass which would be prohibitively costly. I have pushed instead for the northerly extension of Isabell Avenue, which would help people in West Livermore and not just benefit the gravel companies.
Why did you declare a homeowner's exemption in Nevada County when you represent Alameda County?	The exemption was taken on a house owned jointly by my wife and me. She and one of my sons lived in Nevada County for health reasons, while I lived with my daughter in an apartment in Pleasanton. We did not own any other residential dwelling in Alameda County.
You have received a lot of free tickets from professional sports teams and race tracks?	I guess this came about as part of my disclosure statement under state law. All Alameda County Supervisors receive the same number of tickets, far more than any of use can use. These tickets are given to staff, constituents, or frequently go unused.

In summary, it is an inescapable fact of life in public office that the field of candidates runs against the incumbent and his record. I expect that, and I feel confident my record can stand up to the intense scrutiny that it gets. But this is the first campaign out of five that the opposition has become personal. One editorial endorsing me recently put it this way: "The 1976 campaign in the first district has often seemed more than anything else a contest in which the challengers compete to see who can stick it to the incumbent loudest and longest. Their concentration on Murphy's record does hint strongly that they lack any coherent programs of their own — at least, any that they want to talk about." I hope that's not what my opponents mean when they talk about their brand of "new politics."

Stohr takes third: 2:14.7

BERKELEY — Some bad luck and a furious headwind combined to prevent Diana Stohr of Granada from winning the girls' 880-yard run at the California State High School Track Championships at Edwards Stadium here yesterday.

Sure the Matador senior finished third in an excellent 2:14.7 but a win was within her reach if she hadn't been boxed in at the begining of the second lap.

"When I was boxed in I moved to the outside to get around the runners and I just tightened up," Stohr said. "The headwind was really strong and it affected my time."

Stohr was in fourth place going into the last lap, moved up to third with about 220 yards to go but couldn't move on eventual winner Alice Trumbly of Coalinga and silver runner-up Suzie Meek of Palos Verdes. Trumbly was timed in 2:13.3 and Meek ran a 2:13.7.

"Going around the last turn I was just trying for third," Stohr admitted. "The wind was really strong and I hadn't met this tough competition before."

Stohr was the only East Bay Athletic League performer to place and the only one to make the finals. Dublin hurdler Chuck Gangnuss failed to qualify in the 120 highs and 330 lows Friday as did San Ramon discus thrower Mike Bowles, Livermore 880-yard runner Sheri Williams and shotputter Carol Dolsby of Monte Vista.

Southern California athletes dominated the boys' championship race.

Hamilton of Los Angeles, Kennedy of the Southern Section and San Fernando tied for the boys' crown with 12 points each.

However, Berkeley made a runaway of the girls' competition, winning with 20 points, mainly on its great sprint strength.

Billy Mullins sparked Hamilton with first place finishes in the 100 and 220. In the shorter event the Hamilton flash got a fair start and exploded at the 50-yard mark to edge past Tequil Willis of Mission (San Francisco) who stumbled and lost his lead. Mullins was timed at 10.0 into a strong headwind. Willis ran a 10.1.

The 220 was never a contest as Mullins blistered the curve and won going away in 21.6.

Kennedy picked up its points from a 41.7 440-yard relay victory and sprinter Norris Jones' third place finishes in the 100 and 220. San Fernando took fourth place in the mile relay, the last event of the day, to gain its share of the crown.

Dearld Harris of Pittsburg and Jone Lane of American of Fremont took first places in the 440 and high jump respectively for the only East Bay Area wins.

Harris put on a blistering curve run to win the one-lapper in 47.6 and Lane took the high jump with an excellent leap of 6-11.

Steve Montgomery of Lassen of the Northern Section set the only meet record with a 68-foot toss in the shot put.

Conrad Jepson of Washington of Fremont finished third with a 63-9½ throw.

"I though I had it when I hit my best on the second throw," Jepson said. "I expected Montgomery and John McKenzie (Hart of the Southern Section) to be my biggest competition and they were."

McKenzie finished second with a 64-7¾ toss.

Wyatt Bishop of Carlmont of Belmont was the only other Bay Area winner in the boys division with a tight 1:54.4 victory in the 880.

There were three records set in the girls' division. Marquite Belk of San Jose's Silver Creek High raced to a 55.2 victory in the 440 in what was probably the top mark in the girls' division.

Bad day for EBAL

While Diana Stohr salvaged an EBAL placing in the state meet by finishing third in the 880, six other EBAL athletes who failed to make the cut Friday were dejectedly looking for answers.

Livermore's Sheri Williams, only a sophomore, ran in the first heat of the girls 880 Friday and finished in seventh place with a 2:24.4 time, well off her seasonal best.

"I don't want to know my time," Williams said after Friday's race. Williams was well into the pack most of the race, never making a serious move toward the front. "It wasn't my kind of race. I was very sore, very tired I took a look at the times and it just freaked me out."

Williams, who admitted she had never been tested that much during the year, was adamant upon returning to State next year. "Most definitely," was her reply. "I'm glad I got this far."

Dublin's Chuck Gangnuss was placed in the toughest heat of the day in the 120 high hurdles. Running in the third heat, Gangnuss finished fourth with a time of 14.3, a fast time considering yesterday's winning time was 14.5. In the other two heats, no second place finisher exceeded 14.3.

"I started out fast, and about the fourth or fifth hurdle they just caught me," Gangnuss said after the race.

In the 330 lows, Gangnuss had a tough time coming out of the blocks and finished in fifth place in 38.5. "I just didn't get going," he mumbled after the race, obviously disappointed by his two setbacks.

Dublin's 440 relay team of Gangnuss, Jon Batchelor, Ricky Chan and Jim Boulware wasn't expected to pose a serious threat at the meet. The team, running in Friday's trials, equalled their season best of 43.0, but was disqualified on the first leg when Chan fouled. "I hit the line three times," admitted Chan.

"Our goal was to get into the 42's," anchor-man Batchelor said. "Another goal was to get to the state meet, and we did that. Next year we'll have two juniors and two seniors." Chan is graduating, while Gangnuss, Batchelor and Boulware will all be back.

San Ramon's Mike Bowles and Monte Vista's Carol Dolsby also failed to qualify for yesterday's finals. Bowles tossed the discus 166-2, only 10th place among the finishers. Dolsby, meanwhile, threw the shot put 39-3¾, 16th place among the girls.

Davidson sets records

SANTA CLARA — Dana Davidson set two Pacific Association age-group records and tied another at the Santa Clara Valley A.A.U. A.A. championship swimming meet at the International Swim Center here yesterday.

Swimming for the NorCal Aquatics, the 12-year old Pleasanton resident first broke the 50-meter freestyle record with a 28.61 time, six hundredth of a second better than the previous mark. She later shaved one hundredth of a second off the 100-meter butterfly mark with a 1:07.59 and equaled the 50-meter backstroke record of 33.8.

San Ramon High School freshman Davitt Cunningham, swimming for the Pleasant Hill Swim Club, was the only other local swimmer to win an event, splashing to a 57.53 in the boys' 13-14 100-meter freestyle. He added a second in the 100-meter butterfly at 1:02.6.

Anita Sapardjiman, the 14-year-old Indonesain swimmer who recently began training with NorCal, made a respectable American debut, clocking a 2:27 in the 200-meter breaststroke, good for fifth place.

Six other local swimmers placed in more than one event.

NorCal's Amy Schinnerer took second in both the under-10 meter freestyle (1:09.42) and 100-meter backstroke (1:23.13).

She also qualified for the 50-meter breaststroke finals, finishing seventh in 44.64.

The Davidson sisters were a familiar sight in the finals as, in addition to Dana's heroics, Jan was second in the 13-14 100-meter freestyle (1:02.65) and ninth in the 100-meter butterfly (1:12.94. Vicki, meanwhile, captured fourth in the 50-meter freestyle (30.03), fifth in the 100-meter butterfly (1:12.77) and seventh in the 50-meter backstroke (35.62).

San Ramon's Jim Tremain was fifth in the 11-12 50-meter freestyle (30.04), sixth in the 50-meter backstroke (35.62) and eighth in the 100-meter breaststroke (1:27.17). Pat Price of NorCal placed eighth in the girls' 13-14 400-meter freestyle (4:41.47) yesterday after tieing for fourth in the 800-meter freestyle (9:30.4) on Friday.

Nancy Thompson, a NorCal import from Idaho, took a pair of sixths in the 15-18 age-bracket. She finished the 100-meter freestyle in 1:02.24 and the 200-meter backstroke in 2:35.11.

The meet concludes today, with Dana Davidson seeking a one minute 100-meter freestyle that would qualify her for the Olympic trials later this month. Her best so far has been a 1:01.2.

Brown keys SH victory

Jonna Brown had four hits, including a triple, and drove in three runs as Straw Hat beat Dairy Queen, 14-11, in Livermore Bobby Sox softball recently.

Kim Cupps and Marcy Kelly also had three hits for the winners while Kim Dennis cracked five, including a triple for the losers Laurie Bolsam had three Queen hits.

SF beats Philly again, 4-2

It was billed as Transcendental Meditation Society Day but it turned into Kenny Reitz Day as the San Francisco Giants beat the winningest team in baseball, Philadelphia, 4-2 Saturday at Candlestick Park.

Reitz, a Gold Glove winner at third base for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1975, showed he can put the ball out of the park too. He hit one of TM member Steve Carlton's southpaw offerings for a two-run homer over the left field fence in the second inning with Bobby Murcer aboard.

In the SF sixth, Reitz' infield single allowed Murcer to score from third. Bobby had singled, also infield variety to lead off the inning. He was sacrificed to second by Chris Speier and moved to third on Willie Montanez' ground ball to second.

San Francisco got its other run in the third when winning pitcher Ed Halicki singled, moved to second on a wild pitch and trotted home on Gary Matthews' double into the left field corner.

Reitz went 3-for-4 at the plate.

The Daly City product expressed amazement that his drive in the second went over the left field barrier. "I was surprised it went out because the wind was really blowing in hard. I didn't think it was a home run ball. It was a pitch up around the eyes. That's where I hit most of my homers." A year ago Reitz hit five roundtrippers. The one Saturday was No. 4.

Kenny observed, "Well, we've beaten the Phillies two in a row and we have a chance to sweep them today with John (The Count) Montefusco going for us."

He hinted, "We seem to do okay against Cincinnati, the Dodgers and Philadelphia. We are going to have to bear down just as hard against the other teams in this league."

Halicki, who a week ago was in danger in getting a ticket to Phoenix, echoed Reitz' sentiments. The 6-7 righthander, who took care of Los Angeles Wednesday, is now 4-8. Said big Ed, "I got my confidence back after the Dodger game and I felt pretty aggressive today.

Bobby Six teams announce all-stars

"Bubblegum and long dresses" seemed to be the story as members of the 18 Pleasanton Bobby Sox teams gathered at Amador High School Friday for the Annual Awards Night. Each team in the major and minor divisions received ribbons, while members of the All-Star teams were announced.

The majors, which consists of girls 12-15 years of age, awarded the first place Valley Realty Saints with a blue ribbon. The Saints, managed by Linda Walls, wound up the season with an impressive 13-1 record to take the top spot. Barbara Hansen, who also manages to be the mother of ten children and stay "on call" as a nurse, coached the New York Life Lemon Drp Kids to a 10-4-1 record to grab second place.

San Juan Pools' Sizzlers, coached by Gail Johnson, took third place with 10-5 mark for the season.

The Odd Fellows' and Rebekahs' Ravens grabbed first place in the minor with a perfect 19-0 record. The minors are made up of girls 9-11 years old, and the division consists of eight teams.

Wolf infielder EBAL champ

San Ramon High School's all-league first baseman Rick Hanson is the East Bay Athletic League batting champion, according to official statistics.

The Wolf junior led the league with 21 hits, which in 49 at bats, gave him a .429 average — well ahead of second place finisher Chuck Cary of California who came in at .395.

Vance Rushing, Granada's streak-hitting shortstop, was the closest thing to a triple crown winner in the EBAL this season. Also a junior, Rushing was fourth at .386 but led with 16 RBI and four home runs — including a memorable two-homer, seven-RBI season-ending game against Foothill.

Rob Wicks led in all the important pitching categories. The Amador Valley junior was 9-0, hurled 63⅔ innings, gave up just four hits and seven walks and struck out 78.

Brad Miller of league champion Monte Vista was second with a 4-0 record compiled over 34 innings.

MV golf coach confident about tourney

Hal Fuson knows nothing about the course but plenty about his team and because of the latter the Monte Vista High golf coach figures his Mustangs to be in the running at the Northern California High School Tournament tomorrow.

The Peach Tree course in Marysville, site of the 36 hole tourney, is a giant mystery. Fuson can guarantee just one thing going into the 7 a.m. tee-off.

The course has 18 holes. And that's all the Mustangs need to know.

"We've really been playing some good golf," contends the likeable coach, whose team qualified for the prestigious tourney after winning both the East Bay Athletic League and North Coast Section titles recently.

"Man to man, this is one of the finest teams I've ever had. They're all real steady golfers. They're a competitive bunch, always pushing each other.

"That's why the guys shoot as well as they do," he continued. "We have guys not making this trip who could be playing on a lot of teams."

One of those is Ron Low, who played in the sixth spot most of the year but was bumped by junior Dave Howe, who has been coming on like gangbusters in recent weeks. Mark Nelson, who Fuson insists "just isn't quite strong enough to stay in there," won't be in the Mustangs' six-man field either.

But Senior Tom Straeter will, the Mustangs' No. 1 player. He paced Monte Vista's eight stroke EBAL victory at Gault a month ago by shooting a six over par 78 on the neutral course. He wound up in fourth place after a three way sudden death playoff.

A week later Monte Vista bombed the Alameda south course the way the Japanese did Pearl Harbor, setting a new NCS record with a six - man total of 781 over 36 holes. Straeter was the Mustangs low man again, carding a 74-77-151 and a fifth place finish in the tourney.

"I'll take the same score at the North Coast Section," says a wishful thinking Fuson, "and let them (competitors at tomorrow's NorCal championship) try and beat it. I think if we shoot that well, we'll be right in there. I think we have a better than average chance in winning it."

Other players who helped the Mustangs to a 12-2 EBAL record and 15-2 overall mark include: Dave Najarian, Carl Richardson, John Wilkins, Dave Olson and Dave Howe.

"We're going there to give it a try," added Fuson, looking forward to the three hour jaunt up north. "I hope we bring back another championship."

"I haven't heard anything about the course," the coach continued. "I've never even seen it."

But Fuson isn't phased one bit.

"Every course we play is tough," he concluded.

San Ramon's Greg Allio, the EBAL medalist champion will not be making the trip north tomorrow after he was disqualified by officials at the NCS championships on grounds that his coach, Fred Houston, was not present.

Houston filed a formal protest against the CIF, citing that Fuson — a representative of the San Ramon Valley Unified School District — was responsible for Allio. The CIF, questioning Allio's responsibility, held up the disqualification.

Open competition in Grizzly camp

With few positions assured and the memories of a 2-7 season lingering in its mind, the California High School football team concluded its spring workouts Friday.

Mike McGinnis, beginning his first year as the Grizzlies head coach, believes he has some top individual but "no player's position is assured.

"If someone started last year, it doesn't mean he'll start this season," the 29-year-old former San Ramon and Las Lomas High Schools assistant coach.

McGinnis is looking for several underclassmen to lead his Grizzlies to a respectable record.

McGinnis points to either Tom Woodmansee or Tyler Laurie to quarterback the squad with workhorse Don Linski, junior Chris Miller and 9.9 sprinter Willie Huff shoring up the rest of the swift backfield.

"Our major weakness appears to be the line," admitted McGinnis.

Assistant coach Tom Zechin interjected, "We'll average about 180-185 pounds per linemen, barring injuries, but there's not much depth."

The bulk of the interior line will be provided by Curt Johnson, whose dimensions of 5-11, 230, could prove a tough task to those assigned to block him.

"He has to lose some weight," Zechin said, "But he's fast."

Supplying the speed for the Grizzlies will be Huff and tight end Keith Carlson.

Carlson, a lithe 6-3, 190, runs the 100-yard dash on the Grizzly track team.

Snapping the ball will be center Dave Peters. Peters is only 5-11, 165, but "is very intelligent and uses his weight as best he can," according to Zechin.

Other top returnees for Cal include Jay Lord, a 5-11, 185-pound lineman and guard-linebacker Dan Nelson.

McGinnis said he expects a lot from junior Todd Kelly.

"In one year, he went from 155 pounds to 195,"said an obviously pleased McGinnis.

No matter who starts at quarterback, the Grizzlies will not employ the option on offense, according to Zechin.

"We'll probably run the Power I Pro Set," he said.Zechin said the quarterback spot is still up for grabs but mentioned, "Tom is probably the better passer now and Laurie the better runner."

Zechin said "Spring is too early to choose a starter."

The Grizzlies return to the turf in late August to continue their fight for East Bay Athletic League respectability.

The two month lay-off gives the 40-man squad a chance to think about earning a starting position. Or losing one.

Foothill mentor promises thrills

Flashy may be the best word to describe the Foothill High School varsity football as it enters its second year under enthusiastic head coach John Lupoi.

Lupoi, whose Falcons have just concluded the two weeks of spring practice allowed by the East Bay Athletic League, thinks the experience his young team gained from last season's non-league varsity games will be invaluable this time around.

Lupoi promises to provide the Foothill faithful with something to get excited about: "I believe we could lose every game we play by a touchdown and still be representative of the school and make the game exciting. People will come to the game."

On the other hand, Lupoi believes a traditional approach would lead to apathy.

"We could play conservatively, without a platoon system, but the morale on our team would not be as high and the parents would not get as excited because not many kids would be playing."

Lupoi learned that lesson last season when the Falcons opened with a varsity team comprised of 17 juniors and two sophomores After the first three games, six were injured, leaving Lupoi with an almost impossible task.

"We were a three-year school, but fielded three teams (freshman, junior varsity and varsity)," he recalled. Lupoi brought up some sophomores from the JV team and things started to click.

The Falcons won three of their last four games and tied the other. Lupoi switched to a platoon system with the additional players and it worked wonders. This year, he'll try for the same chemistry.

"We're not going to try and fool anybody, but we're going to keep them guessing," Lupoi says in describing the Falcons' offense "Our defense is going to have to make some breaks for us.

"I'm extremely pleased with our defense."

Supporting Lupoi's claim, Foothill's interior linemen (John Eulrech, Tony Trujillo and David Ledbetter) average 6-1 and 210 pounds. The linebackers average 5-11, 180. Scott Marshall, Kevin Coyne, Brian Carothers and Mike Colvin head the linebacking corps.

Offensively, Lupoi believes passing is the name of the game.

"We're going to do it through the air," he says.

Leading that air attack will be Kevin Henderson and Mike Martins, both seniors Henderson was the second-leading passer among EBAL quarterbacks last year, though the Falcons did not play a league schedule and met only one member school, Monte Vista.

Two of Foothill's opponents, however, went on to win league championships.

On the offensive line, Ken Franco, Mike Mather, Ves Cash and Phil Moore will protect the quarterback,Henderson avoided being sacked all of last season, but Lupoi does not give all the credit to the offensive line.

"We attribute that to the fact that we run a lot of playaction passes, quick roll-outs and sprint-out type passes," he said.

Jeff Johnstone and Chas Dean will lead the wide receivers. The duo finished 2-3 among EBAL receivers in overall statistics last year. Mark Aune and Sam Sisneroz will also see action.

At running back, Lupoi is looking to senior Russ Humphreys and EBAL 40-yard dash champion Craig Johnson to carry the load in Foothill's first league season.

"AN ACCREDITED PERSONAL SERVICE"

Let's Keep the Money in California.

$3 billion of business capital...lost by California to other states.
90,000 to 200,000 jobs...lost by California.
Millions of dollars of tax revenues...lost by California.

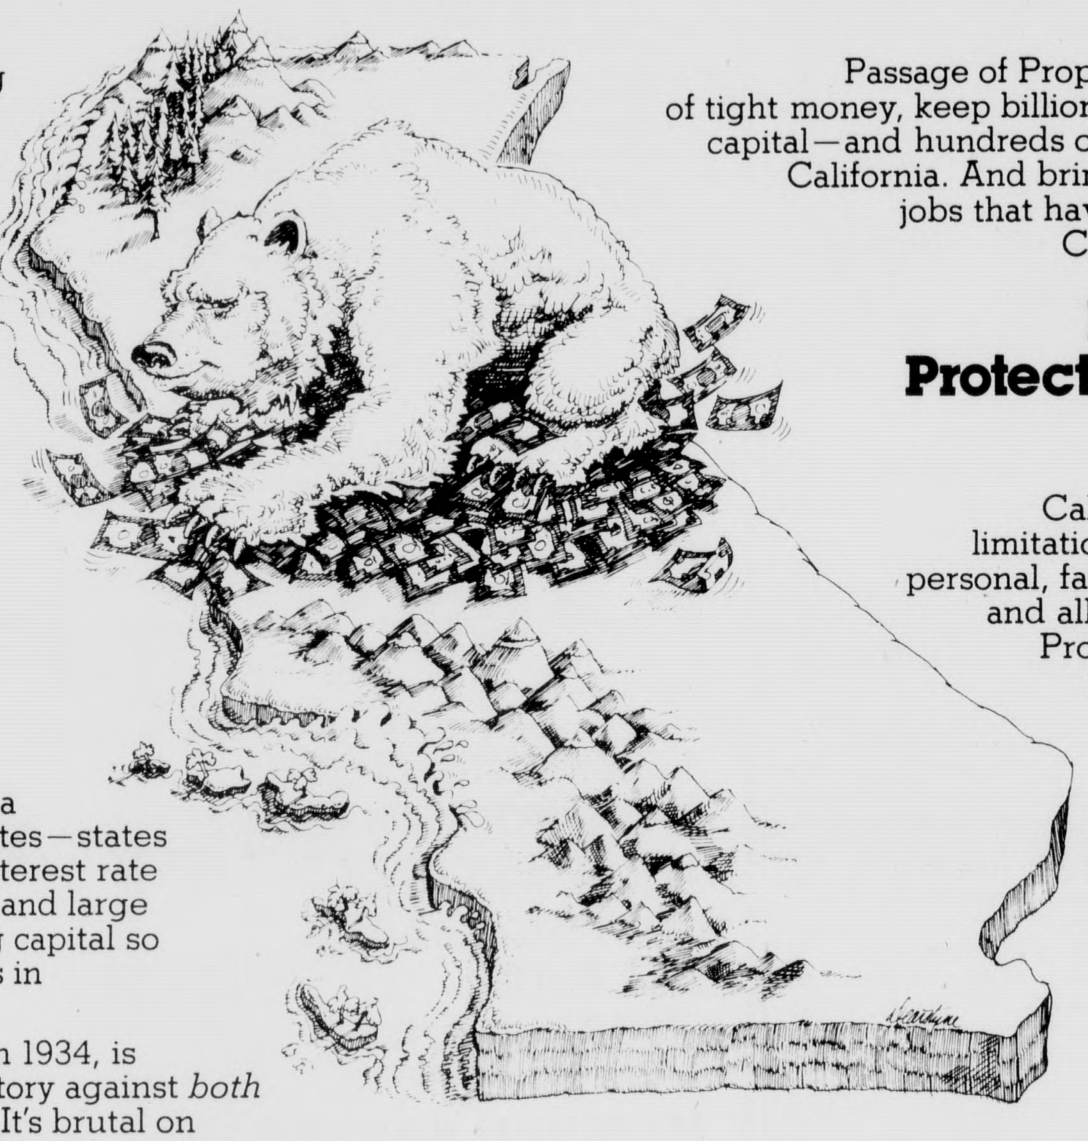
These were some of the appalling effects, in 1974 and 1975 alone, of California's antiquated law governing interest rates for loans to corporations. It has had a crippling effect on our state's economy. The law must be reformed.

Proposition 12 on the June ballot would modernize California's 42-year-old law on interest rates for loans to business . . . a type of law that still exists in only two other states, Arkansas and Tennessee.

How Proposition 12 Would Keep California From Losing Money and Jobs to Other States.

Proposition 12 would let California compete equally with the 47 other states—states that have already modernized their interest rate laws on business loans—so that small and large business firms can obtain the working capital so vital to business and job opportunities in California.

California's existing law, passed in 1934, is ridiculously outmoded. It's discriminatory against both California employees and employers. It's brutal on California's economy. In 1974-75, California lost over $3 billion in capital and 90,000 to 200,000 jobs to other states that allow market interest rates for loans to corporations.



Passage of Proposition 12 will, in times of tight money, keep billions of dollars of business capital—and hundreds of thousands of jobs—in California. And bring back the money and jobs that have been draining out of California to other states.

Proposition 12 Protects Consumers.

Proposition 12 retains all existing California protections and limitations on interest rates for personal, family, household, home and all other consumer loans. Proposition 12 imposes no new taxes or any other hidden costs on consumers.

That is why not one consumer organization or spokesman opposed Proposition 12 during recent public hearings on the measure in the State Legislature.

Proposition 12 has Overwhelming Support.

Proposition 12 was put on the ballot by a bipartisan 90 to 8 vote of the State Legislature. It's officially endorsed by virtually every leading group in the state, and by leading men and women from business and labor, government, the professions, education, consumer, conservation, taxpayer and minority organizations. In fact—because Proposition 12 helps everyone and hurts no one in California—it has no organized opposition. Not one group in California has campaigned against Proposition 12.

Letters to The Times

Wrong victim

Editor, The Times:

I feel it is important for someone to comment about the poor taste shown by the Valley Times in their Wednesday edition.

Your over - reaction to the political pranks of a few sign snatchers was bad enough. Anyone involved in a political campaign can expect that kind of nonsense — indeed. I would expect that it has happened to every candidate to some degree. But to permit that kind of insignificant pressmanship to over - shadow the very serious vandalism done to the LARPD building is a real disservice to your reading public.

Martyrdom has long been Mr. Miller's political style, and you have helped his cause. Had you helped the cause of public awareness to the outrageous vandalism that will cost the taxpayers of Livermore thousands of dollars in repair costs, it would have been to your credit!

Dean Davis

Dining success

Editor, The Times:

The members and friends of the Nursery School Scholarship Fund wish to express their thanks to your newspaper and all those who helped to make our recent gourmet dinner raffle a big success. The winners, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stevens of Livermore, and their guests will long remember their elegant meal. Due to the enthusiastic community response to this fund - raising project N.S.S.F. is planning to repeat it next year.

Barbara Tuck
Chairman N.S.S.F.

Support Alves

Editor, The Times:

As an individual who has spent all of his years in the Valley (most of them active politically), it has not been difficult to ascertain that John D. Murphy should be defeated on June 8. John's last years of tenure have been demeaning to those of us that believe in representative government. Most surely, the time for change is now.

I strongly support the candidacy of Rob Alves. This is the one candidate that truly reflects a viable change in the status quo. There will not be business as usual should he be elected. Alves appreciates that the people aught to be the "special interest" of the Supervisor, that the Supervisor ought to be accessible to to the people that elect him, and that real desire and experience will best serve the constituency.

Alves past experiences will be of benefit as Supervisor. He served the late Assemblyman Carlos Bee for four years as his Administrative Asst. and is presently on leave as Administrative Asst. to Supervisor Santana. His political philosophy was proclaimed my many when he functioned on the Jerry Brown for Governor Steering Committee in 1974. Rob Alves understands the limitations of government.

We now have a candidate with documented experience. Alves has a background of public service, of solving people's problems, of cutting red tape, and of attending community and small group meetings. With Alves, the people have the opportunity to put government where it belongs ... in the hands of the people.

Reasonable people can bring forth reasonable solutions. I urge the people of this district to elect the only really reasonable candidate. Its time that we have a Supervisor that will react to the will and the needs of the electorate.

Timothy D. Baird
Livermore

Working together

Editor, The Times:

Having read local papers for ten years I had come to believe what I had read — City vs. Chamber of Commerce. Then in the spring of '75 I was appointed to the Business License Tax Review Committee as consumer representative. Other members were Annette Morris and Dr. Kamena representing the chamber; Don Miller and John Staley as council representatives my first encounter with any of these people. Now the committee work is finished and an ordinance adopted. Personally the most valuable lesson was in realizing just how well the business community and our city representatives and staff work together.

After nine months of meetings with many business people — after working with the council (esp. the infamous Don Miller) it is obvious certain "journalists" are anti-Livermore. One paper in Livermore is obsessed with reporting and magnifying the city's negative points. We were lied to by this type "reporting" through lies of omission of the positive side of Livermore. We have a concerned chamber in Livermore. People I met from Dom's, Mel's, Ozzie Davis, Bank America, Proctor's, J.C. Penney's, and countless others substantiate the positive image. Our city representatives and staff are concerned and are not the demigods some "journalists" purport them to be.

Livermore is a fine town — it is getting finer — but not if we believe what some newspapers (financed from "out - of - the - valley") write about us and our neighbors. Sitting on that committee this deceit became obvious and for the first time in my life I supported a political candidate.

Working with Don Miller for nearly a year I saw what a good representative he is. He is outspoken — better than "double-spoken." He was challenging to work with — ignorance is no challenge.

It seems some newspapers make bad voters and produce worse candidates. People will be well represented by Don Miller on Zone 7.

Copy of a letter to:
Don Miller, Bill Loewe, Susan Stienberg, Mary B. Comfort , et al.

I am overwhelmed by the sudden attention I have received through your thoughtful letters to the editor. Your assorted queries, comments accusations and threats (?) are enough to make most people wonder just what kind of wretched soul I must be.

As I was out repairing my vandallized signs this evening, I decided to search my soul to find answers to your sincere and well-mannered letters. They are, in order;

1. I always have. 2. I never would. 3. You know I would if I could. 4. I did 5. Never! 6. Please forgive me, if you can. 7. If my wife finds out we're both in trouble. 8. I will try harder.

I know these won't completely satisfy your profound curiosity, but then nothing else I could say would do any better. You probably won't be fulfilled until I am totally submerged beneath your invectives — so have at it! As Alexander Pope said, "It is with narrow-minded people as it is with narrow-necked bottles; the less they have in them the more noise they make in pouring out."

I might add that I am always more than happy to answer honestly any and all questions put to me courteously by someone who is seriously interested in hearing my point of view.

Don't forget to vote your conscience!

Key post for Lynn Barnhill

Lynn Barnhill, 19, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Donald Barnhill of Pleasanton, has been named a state officer of the Grand Assembly of California, International Order of the Rainbow for Girls.

Appointment of Miss Barnhill to the office was one of several honors accorded the Pleasanton Assembly at the Masonic - affiliated youth group's recent state convention at Sacramento. Dorothy Robinson of Livermore, who was Grand Worthy Advisor of California Rainbow Girls for the year, presided at the state conclave.

Pleasanton Assembly was also cited for having reported to every issue of the Pot of Gold, the state Rainbow newspaper.

Holder of the Grand Cross of Color, the highest service conferred by the international order, Miss Barnhill has been a member of the Pleasanton Assembly for more than five years. She was the assembly's worthy advisor in 1973. Lynn is a graduate of Amador Valley High School and currently attends San Jose State University where she majors in home economics.

Her father is a member of Alisal Masonic Lodge of Pleasanton.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

New England patriots took a dim view of the smuggling carried on by the officers and crew of the British ship Gaspee. Farmers complained that men from the ship raided their stock and cut down fruit and walnut trees for firewood. Royal Navy authorities ignored the protests but impatient merchants in Providence took action in June, 1772. Learning one night of the Gaspee's running aground off nearby Warwick, a number of men in small boats rowed out to the ship and burned it. The World Almanac recalls.

BORN LOSER

If you think things sometimes go wrong for you, you'll feel better after laughing at "The Born Loser" each morning in The Times comics.

JUST FOR THE RECORD . . .

Supervisor John Murphy voted this year for a tax increase on top of an average increase in assessed valuation of nearly 10%.

VCSD to discuss park plan

DUBLIN — The Citizens Advisory Committee on Parks and Recreation will discuss Phase II development of the district's three parks when it meets Tuesday night.

The group, which advises the VCSD Board of Directors on parks and recreation, will meet at 8 p.m. in the VCSD General Office, 7051 Dublin Blvd.

The sub-committee report on the district's swimming pool program is due for consideration by the committee. The group may develop recommendations on pool operation and programs to be forwarded to the VCSD board.

Sub-committee reports on the committee's study of future parks programs will also be given.

Swim program signups set for Dublin

DUBLIN — Registration for swimming lessons and other aquatics programs offered by Valley Community Services District at its two pools will begin on June 7.

Registration will be taken in person only at Shannon Park Community Center, 11600 Shannon Ave., Dublin from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily through Saturday, June 12.

Registration will also be taken Wednesday, June 9 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Throughout the rest of the summer, registration will be taken Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Shannon.

No classes will be held on Monday, July 5.

Six swim sessions will be offered at both San Ramon Olympic Pool and the Valley Community Swim Center.

Session I: June 14 - 25;
Session II: June 28 - July 9;
Session III: July 12 - 23;
Session IV: July 26 - Aug. 6;
Session V: Aug. 9 - 20; Session VI: Aug. 23 - Sept. 3.

Lessons will be givn at the following levels: tiny tot, beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate, swimmer.

These Red Cross swimming lessons will be taught by qualified Water Safety Instructors with a maxium of eight students per class. Fee is $6 per swimmer.

Additional programs that will be offered include diving ($6), synchronized swim ($6), adult fitness ($6), adult swimming lessons ($12 for ten 1-hour lessons), lifesaving classes ($12 for ten 2.5 hour lessons), handicapped swim ($6), aquathenics ($18 for Mon, Wed, Fri); aquathenics ($12 for Mon, Wed).

Handicapped swim project announced

DUBLIN — Handicapped persons of all ages, disabilities and swimming skills may take part in the Valley Community Services District swimming lessons program to be held again this summer.

Lessons will take place at California High School olympic pool on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 2:30 p.m., June 14 through August 8.

A fee of $6 will be charged.

If you are interested in enrolling or would like more information, call the VCSD Recreation Center at 828-7711 or program director Judy Giles at 828-7829.

Special arrangements may be made for school groups.

VCSD seeks swim aides for summer

DUBLIN — Volunteers are needed this summer to help with the Valley Community Services District Swim Program for the Handicapped.

The program will be run on Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays from 10:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 2:30 p.m., June 14 through August 8.

All volunteers will be trained by VCSD. Volunteers may sign up for one or more half-hour sessions. A training session will be held at California High School pool on June 12 at 10 a.m.

Sprawling fifth district

Seven candidates bid for CCC board seat

By PAT KEEBLE
Lesher News Bureau

MARTINEZ — The sprawling fifth supervisorial district will have a new county representative in 1977, but that person will probably not be known right after Tuesday's election.

The mere fact there are seven candidates for the single seat makes it almost a mathematical impossibility that one of those seven will get the more than 50 per cent required to win in the primary.

Given also that several candidates have run vigorous campaigns and that the district is split into two distinct geographical and philosophical areas and it becomes even more apparent that the top two vote-getters will run off in the November general election.

The decision of four-time supervisor Edmund Linscheid of Pittsburg not to run for re-election prompted the large number of candidates and the spirited campaigning.

The candidates appearing to have the best chance of being in the runoff are former Antioch mayor Louise Giersch, former Pittsburg mayor Earl MacIntyre and Danville civic leader Eric Hasseltine.

Expected to poll most strongly among their constituencies in Pittsburg are City Councilman Frank Quesada and Los Medanos Hospital Board member Ronald Johnson.

Floyd Sims of Alamo will probably pull in some Republican votes from those who remember his 1972 race for congress against Jerry Waldie, while Pittsburg rancher-electrician Warren Smith is a member of the county Democratic Central Committee.

Hasseltine, an engineer and systems analyst in Danville, "won" a seat on the San Ramon Valley City Council which was not formed when the incorporation try was defeated four years ago.

He has continued to be active in community affairs, and began his supervisorial campaign last year with visits to community group meetings throughout the district to acquaint voters with his desire to run.

MacIntyre has been employed by U.S. Steel since shortly after leaving the Army at Camp Stoneman, working his way up from mill clerk to assistant marketing manager in the western division.

While a member of the Pittsburg City Council, he also served on the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, the Contra Costa Mayors Conference policy committee, and the League of California Cities Transportation Committee.

Ms. Giersch served two terms on the Antioch City Council and has twice served as mayor. She has been the only woman chairman of the Contra Costa Mayors Conference.

She has a long record of representation in regional, state and national governmental agencies, ranging from her chairmanship of county Transportation Advisory Committee to membership on the state Seismic Safety Commission.

Quesada has been with the U.S. postal service for 24 years, and is in his first term as a member of the Pittsburg City Council and presently vice mayor.

He has served as an area representative on the county Criminal Justice Agency, the Bay Area Sewage Service Agency and the Equal Opportunity Council.

Johnson is in his third term as an elected member of the Los Medanos Hospital Board. Studying law while working as fiscal officer for a Stockton-based corporation, he received his degree in 1971 and has been practicing in Pittsburg since 1973.

At the age of 25 in 1966, he was the youngest person ever elected to the hospital board.

Sims is head of Allied Business Systems, a calculator sales firm, and claims 14 years of local and regional business management experience. The firm is headquartered in Orinda and has branches in San Jose and Fresno.

He was Waldie's last opponent for congress, arguing that since Waldie had already announced he would run for governor in 1974, he should not be re-elected.

Smith has made a trademark of trying to shake up the Board of Supervisors on matters he believes important.

He has run the lowest keyed campaign of any supervisorial candidate, claiming he has spent no money, accepted no donations nor appeared at any group-sponsored candidates night because he does not want to be beholden to anyone as a supervisor.

The one issue all areas of the district have in common is property taxes. From the industrial and agricultural areas of the East County to the wealthy bedroom communities of the San Ramon Valley, all the candidates have agreed something must be done about high taxes.

Asked how property taxes might be realistically cut, the candidates gave these answers:

MacIntyre: "Innovative and creative thinking must be introduced to make county government more effective at less cost. The administrative staff and department heads salary increases should be based on their ability to improve service and reduce operating cost, rather than general or cost of living increases alone."

Hasseltine: There must be a limit placed on the growth of the property tax paralleling the cost of living index. Although the county can deal only with 20 per cent of the property tax, "it should be the responsibility of the supervisors to set an example in taxation policy and to promote the cooperation of all taxing boards."

Giersch: "Taxes are necessary to pay for the services we require. In this time of high inflationary costs and with reduced matching funds for federal and state mandated programs, it is pretty tough to achieve a property tax reduction. To do so would require serious and deep cutting of present programs and services." Revenue sharing should continue to be used to keep the tax rate down.

Johnson: When property is reassessed every five years, the tax base should be adjusted back "so county government doesn't end up with a windfall." Only basic need programs should be maintained, such as those for the truly needy in food, shelter, and health care, and police protection. Programs that don't belong are rehabilitation and preventive type programs "unless we can show that those are accomplishing a legitimate purpose."

Quesada: "It would be unrealistic for me to say that property taxes could be cut, but I do feel that we can hold them to the present level. We've got to save money by cutting back on needless administrators who cost the county thousands of dollars each year. Also, I feel that industry and commerce must accept a larger portion of the tax burden."

Sims: "In simple terms, you cut taxes by cutting spending. The only people who have the power and authority to do this are the county supervisors. The current supervisors have not done their job. They must learn how to say 'no' to unnecessary spending and mean it."

Smith: An "imposible situation created by the Board of Supervisors must be remedied immediately, and that is the subsidizing of mobile home dwellers by the homeowners. Mobile home owners pay rent but no property taxes, and tax revenue from the mobile home parks amounts to about 50 per cent of that received from a comparable area in standard homes."

Another area of major concern was that of protecting Delta waters, probably because the fifth district is partly in the Delta, and because Linscheid for many years has been the water spokesman for the board.

The candidates were asked whether, since part of the East County Delta does not pay taxes to the county Water Agency, the expense to the rest of the county, primarily for outside legal counsel, is justified. Most also had their own statements on the Delta. Their comments:

Giersch: "Delta water is vital to the life of Contra Costa County. If industry goes down the river, the impact on jobs and the local economy will, too. The county water interests including the Board of Supervisors and its Water Agency, the Contra Costa Water Distrcit and the cities affected, must develop a cooperative approach. I firmly believe that winning the water fight within the next three to five years is going to be the key to the future of Contra Costa County."

MacIntyre: The expenditure of $2 million by the board's Water Agency in recent years "is justifiable if it was part of an overall program between Contra Costa Water District and the supervisors to establish high quality standards in the Delta, with the federal government...It is imperative that supervisors work with state and federal representatives on legislation which will protect the Delta waters."

Hasseltine: "The expenditure is definitely not justified. We have a Board of Supervisors and a County Counsel who should be representing this county's interests at the state and federal levels.

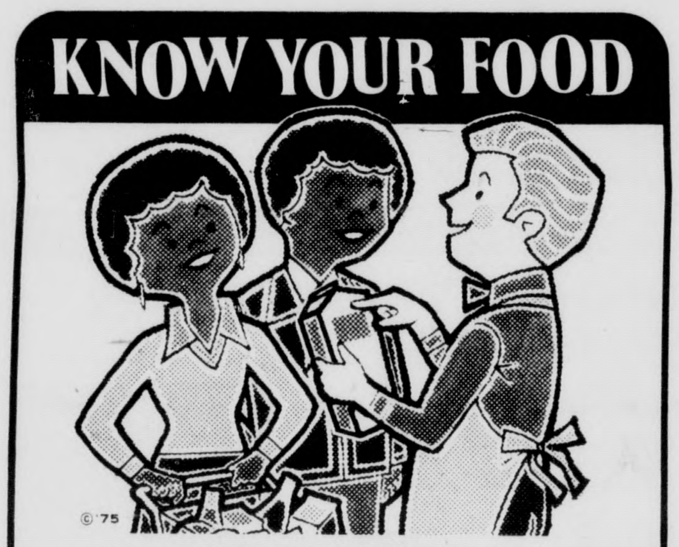
KNOW YOUR FOOD



MILK GROUP

Many of today's diets are low in calcium because we don't use enough calcium-rich foods, such as milk and cheese, in our diets. Growing children need calcium to build bones and teeth, especially during teen years, when children are growing fast.

Adults, too, need calcium even though they're not building bones and teeth. Each day, adults lose some calcium and must replace it. Calcium helps clot blood when you cut or injure yourself; it helps keep all your muscles in good shape so they can work for you . . . especially the heart muscles.

Milk is our leading source of calcium. It also provides high-quality protein, riboflavin, vitamin A (if milk is whole or fortified), and other nutrients. Protein in milk builds and repairs body tissues, helps the body fight infection, and supplies energy. Eight ounces of fresh whole milk has about 160 calories; the same amount of skim milk has only 90 calories.

Foods Included in the Milk Group: Milk: fluid whole, evaporated, skim, dry, buttermilk. Cheese: cottage, cream, cheddar type, natural or processed. Ice cream. Yogurt.

Recommended Amounts: Some milk daily is urged for almost everyone. Recommended amounts in terms of 8-ounce cups (or glasses) of whole fluid milk are: children under 9, 2 - 3 cups; children 9 - 12, 3 or more cups; teenagers, 4 or more cups; adults, 2 or more cups; pregnant women, 3 or more; nursing mothers, 4 or more. Part of all the milk may be fluid skim milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk or dry milk.

Cheese, ice cream and yogurt can be used in place of part of the milk. The amount of any of these it will take to replace a given amount of milk is figured on the basis of calcium content. On this basis, examples are: 1-inch cube cheddar-type cheese equals ½ cup milk; ½ cup cottage cheese equals ⅓ cup milk; 2 tablespoons cream cheese equals 1 tablespoon milk; ½ cup ice cream equals ⅓ cup milk; 1 cup plain yogurt equals 1 cup milk; 1 cup fruit-flavored yogurt equals ¾ cup milk.
